President Raps Talk of War

"Dream, and It Might Come True . . ."

Remember that old favorite song? It's the thing to do, the song tells us, but you don't have to dream about the latest in home fashions.

Starting Thursday, you can "dream walk" yourself right into the middle of the most modern home conveniences for a mere two-bits at the annual Dixon Home Show at the Dixon armory.

It's your yearly opportunity to see what the nation's top manufacturers have come up with to make modern living more efficient, more economical and more convenient.

And, if you are interested in a new appliance, say a refrigerator, this is your best opportunity to see and compare all the features of all the top makes. No need to run from store to store to see each one and possibly forget some of the features of the ones you've just seen. They'll all be on display within a few steps of each other.

* * *

As last year, the gala event will be held in the Dixon armory located behind the Dixon high school. Doors will open at 6:15 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

And in addition to the home improvements, you'll be treated to 30-minute stage shows presented twice nightly at 7 and 9 p.m. Jack Stuart and his orchestra will be on hand Thursday and radio favorites from WLS radio such as Rita Joyce, the Happy Time Trio and Jimmy James, will be around on Friday night.

Saturday, television stars Marjorie Meinert, Warren Vasen, Dwayne Czupka and the Three Naturals, will be on hand for both shows Saturday.

Some 23 local merchants will show everything from paint to outboard motors at the show.

* * *

Everyone likes to window shop and this is that age old custom come to life in 3-D. Not only can you see the items better, but top sales people from the various stores will be on hand to demonstrate and tell you the intricate details of their wares.

Samples and explanatory pamphlets will be available and to ticket holders, a chance to win more than $800 in door prizes.

* * *

As the carnival barker would say: "Alright, alright! Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Step right up and see the wonder of the age. Miracles before your eyes. Nothing is hidden. (Move away from there, junior, you're spoiling the view). This is a once in a lifetime thrill . . ."

Barn, Pigs, Cattle Lost In Ogle Fire

MT. MORRIS — (Special) — A large barn on the Ray Holsinger farm two miles northwest of Mt. Morris was destroyed by fire late Tuesday. Nine cows and 25 young pigs died in the blaze.

Holsinger said today the barn was valued at about $6,000.

The tenant on the farm is David Allen, who moved here from Adeline two weeks ago. Allen had moved hay from his former residence to the Holsinger farm and was putting it into the barn when the blaze started.

Firemen said the fire may have started from a rope being used to lift hay into the barn rubbing against an electric wire. Holsinger said the wiring in the barn was only three years old.

In addition to the barn and livestock destroyed, farm machinery, feed and hay were lost. The loss reportedly was covered by insurance.

Mt. Morris firemen were called, but the blaze made such rapid progress it could not be extinguished. The firemen remained on the scene until 3 a. m. today.

The Allens today expressed their appreciation to their neighbors for their help during and after the fire.

C. of C. Honors Mabel S. Shaw

Dedicate Plaque at Annual Event Tuesday

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night presented a plaque to George B. Shaw, editor of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, in memory of Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw who died March 7.

The walnut and bronze plaque was presented during the chamber's annual dinner in Loveland Community House by the new chamber president, Walter C. Knack. The inscription read:

"Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw, 1871-1955. In loving memory of Mrs. Mabel S. Shaw, publisher of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, for her distinguished contributions, and those of her newspaper, to the civic and cultural growth of her beloved Dixon.

"Dedicated this 29th day of March, 1955, by The Dixon Chamber of Commerce."

Deeply Moved

In reply to the presentation, Mr. Shaw said, "I find it very difficult to find words to express my deep appreciation of your splendid tribute to my mother.

"In behalf of my brothers and our family I can only say that we are profoundly moved by your memorial to our mother and that we are extremely grateful to you for your gracious action."

The presentation was made during the program which followed the dinner. The meeting was considered one of the most successful in Chamber history. Retiring President George Lindquist was chairman.

The principal speaker was Carl F. Oechsle, deputy assistant secretary of commerce for domestic affairs. An account of his speech may be found elsewhere in this edition.

No "Miracles"

Lindquist noted that 1954 was the first year in which the Dixon Chamber had a full-time executive manager. He said the Chamber had expected "no terrific miracles" during the year, but that the Chamber had helped the community.

He expressed the hope that Dixon will continue to grow, and the Chamber's new Industrial committee and the interest shown in Dixon by Carthage College as evidence of possible future growth.

He emphasized that the contemplated moving of the college is still very much in the discussion stage, and the Synods of the Lutheran Church which operate the school have yet to act on the proposed move.

Pledge Efforts

Knack pledged a continuation of efforts to improve Dixon and stimulate growth. Executive Manager Ralph M. Richie presented his report and said he had enjoyed the opportunity to work in Dixon.

Nationalist Planes Attack Red Flotilla Near Matsu

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist planes today attacked a Red flotilla near the Matsus, sinking one wooden craft and damaging seven other ships including three gunboats, the Chinese air force said.

A communique did not give the size of the concentration, nor did it speculate whether it was bent on an invasion of any of the Matsu Islands 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

Communist shore guns and the gunboats opened up with heavy antiaircraft fire but all planes returned safely, the communique said.

Three gunboats were the targets of the first wave of Nationalist warplanes, which roared to the attack at 2:30 p.m. the communique asserted the three gunboats were heavily damaged.

A second wave nearly three hours later then took on a concentration of wooden craft.

The communique said a two-masted wooden craft went to the bottom and four others were hit.

The concentration was caught at the mouth of the Min River, which leads inland to the Port of Foochow. The Matsus partly block the port.

Earlier in the day, Chinese Red guns on Amoy across Formosa Strait fired 14 shells at the Nationalist islet of Tatan, $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles south of Amoy. The Defense Ministry said the shelling caused no damage.

Wayne Smith, City Clerk of Dixon 18 Years, Quits Post

He'll Leave Office on Election Day

Council Approves Ordinances for City Improvements

The city council Tuesday night received and placed on file the resignation of Wayne C. Smith, 77, who has been city clerk for nearly 18 years.

Smith's resignation is effective April 19. He said that he intended to go into at least semi-retirement but added that he would be glad to stay on with the city for a short while to aid the new city clerk.

The council also passed into law three improvement ordinances for sanitary sewers in the west end and Assembly Park and for paving, curb and gutter improvements in the Washington school area. The total cost for the improvements is estimated at $146,444.33. The two sewer projects will be paid for entirely by assessment of property owners over a 10-year period while the paving project will cost the affected property owners only 25 per cent, also over a 10-year period. The remaining 75 per cent will be paid by motor fuel tax funds.

Names Committee

Mayor William Slothower also named a special three-man committee to conduct a public hearing on a petition submitted by Harry E. and Helen Adams, 2031 First St., to amend the city zoning ordinance in the Maple and River Park addition.

The couple stated in their petition that they wished to construct and operate a commercial boating establishment on the Rock River in those additions and asked that the zoning be changed from residential to commercial.

The signatures of 15 property owners in the immediate neighborhood appeared on the Adams' petition.

The committee named included: Gene Baker, 1611 Third St.; E. W.

Revive Salesmanship to Boost Economy, C.C. Told

Commerce Department Speaker Praises Ike

By ROGER THOMPSON
Telegraph Staff Writer

One of the most pressing needs of the national economy today is a revival of the art of salesmanship, according to Carl F. Oechsle, deputy assistant secretary of commerce for domestic affairs, who was the principal speaker at the 33rd annual meeting of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

Oechsle described the salesman as "the key man in the genius of mass production and mass consumption that make our country wealthy," but, he said, during the past 15 years, when goods and services practically sold themselves, companies have allowed their training of salesmen to slip.

Not Kept Pace

He said, "Distribution—especially the dynamo end of it, which is salesmanship—simply has not kept pace with other major factors in the radical shiftings and adjustments of the nation's complicated economy from wartime to peacetime conditions at home and abroad."

Discussing the four phases of vocational training in public schools—agriculture, trade and industry, home economics and distribution—Oechsle pointed out that less than 10 per cent of the students who later will enter distribution or sales work are getting any practical training for such jobs, and students are not being advised of career opportunities in the sales field.

Cites Emphasis

Oechsle quoted statistics showing that the number of persons employed in agriculture in the United States has decreased 40 per cent in the past four decades, but agricultural vocational training in schools receives 52.6 per cent of the money used for vocational classes. On the other hand, he said, the number of persons engaged in distribution in the same period increased fourfold, but the money spent for distributive training courses is only 3 per cent plus of the national total.

In challenging businessmen to back the revival of salesmanship, Oechsle also pointed out that they must strive for public recognition of the importance of the salesman in society. He said, "I regret to report that the social standing of the salesman has also fallen. Opinion surveys have disclosed that the public does not recognize the importance of the salesman in our society, and parents would rather their children become almost anything but a salesman."

Reminded of Song

He said it is as if an old song title has been rewritten to read, "I Didn't Raise My Boy To Be a Salesman."

The title of Oechsle's address was "The Springtime of a New Era." He said America is busy, prosperous, happy, more secure than in many a year, and "full of the promise of even better days to come."

He said his optimism is based on "the giant strides of progress your government in Washington has taken on behalf of all the people in the past two years."

Citing the record of the Eisenhower administration, the speaker presented a list of accomplishments:

1. The checking of Communist-

School Board Candidates

The Evening Telegraph is presenting, as a public service, pictures and background information of the candidates for election to the Dixon board of education in the voting April 5. The candidates are being presented in alphabetical order this week to allow Dixonites to better know the eight men from whom three will be elected to serve the school district. The Telegraph invited each candidate to submit information concerning himself to help the voters know their candidates.

WILLIAM E. LAFEVER, 26, 1016 Galena Ave., candidate for the board of education has owned and operated for 10 years a Dixon food store founded by his father. A native Dixonite, LaFever, is a graduate of St. Mary's school and Dixon high school. He served in the South Pacific with the navy during World War II, and has been active in Elks lodge, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Dixon Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees. His two sons, William and Lewis, attend St. Mary's school, and he has two daughters, Barbara Jo and Gilda, of pre-school age.

LYLE MELVIN, 41, 520 E. Morgan St., candidate for the Dixon board of education, has operated a funeral home in Dixon since 1935. A native of Sterling, he graduated from Sterling high school and Worsham College of Mortuary Science, Chicago. He has been active in Masonic organizations, Dixon Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club, Shrine club, Elks lodge and Odd Fellows lodge. He is married and has a son, Bud, who is a junior in Dixon high school, and a daughter, Sally Jo, a freshman in the same school.

A Lady Known as Lou Has Her Day in Local Court

A six-year-old black and white female Pointer named "Lou" today is proving the truth in the old adage "Every dog has its day."

"Lou" is the center of attention in a justice of the peace jury trial being held today in the circuit courtroom to accommodate the overflow crowd of witnesses, spectators and the curious.

Eleven male jurors had been picked by noon by State's Atty. James E. Bales and Atty. L. J. Scriven to hear testimony in the trial of Chester Beams, 34, Rt. 4, Dixon, who is charged with cruelty to animals—namely "Lou."

The complaint was signed by Mrs. Pauline Evans, president of the local humane society, and charges that Beams failed to provide necessary food and shelter for the hunting dog in question. The complaint was filed Feb. 15.

Justice of the Peace Edwin Merrick adjourned court until 1:30 p.m. after the 11th juror had been accepted. He had originally scheduled the trial in the county board of supervisors room but was forced to move upstairs to accommodate the crowd.

Mrs. Evans and Beams gave a reporter conflicting descriptions of the dog in question. Mrs. Evans thought it was part Dalmatian and part bird-dog. She said the dog weighed 30 pounds when she took it into her custody Feb. 16 and it now weighs 28 pounds, two pounds less than what she said it should weigh. She added that the animal stands 30 inches high.

Beams, who has owned the dog since 1952, contends that the dog is a pure bred black and white Pointer, it should weigh about 30 pounds and it stands only 22 inches high.

Mrs. Evans has also charged Beams with a second cruelty-to-animals count. She claims that he also mistreated a horse he owns in failing to provide it with the proper necessities.

A large congregation of former and present humane society members are on hand for the trial. The defense attorney also stated that he had 30 character witnesses on hand at the last count.

Rebukes Admiral by Implication

Cause of Peace Not Served by Rumor, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower spoke out today against too much speculation and talk about war. He said it doesn't serve the cause of peace.

Eisenhower also said at a news conference that he has no information indicating the Chinese Reds plan to launch an attack soon on the Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

The President's remarks carried an implied rebuke to Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations. Carney has been identified as the source of a prediction, given to newsmen last week, that the Communists would start striking at Quemoy and the Matsus around April 15.

No Reprimand

Asked specifically if Carney would be reprimanded, Eisenhower said not by him.

Eisenhower said he himself was not ruling out the possibility of an attack in mid-April. But, he said, if anyone has information pointing clearly to such an attack, that person must have more information than the President of the United States.

At another point a reporter told Eisenhower that a military man had suggested after a tour of the Far East that the Chinese Nationalists might be armed with atomic weapons.

Eisenhower replied he had not heard about any such suggestion.

The President went on to say again that he believes talk about such things does not do this country any service.

Eisenhower made a remark about being against any further commitments with respect to Formosa. It was not clear whether he was talking about defense commitments by this government or about public statements with respect to Formosa.

At the outset of the news conference, a reporter told Eisenhower that Carney had been quoted as saying the Communists might attack Quemoy and Matsu next month. The newsman went on to say he understood the President felt otherwise and didn't like Carney's expressing the view which he did.

Eisenhower replied that no one possesses a crystal ball to determine the chances of war. He said that for anyone to prophesy when war might break out is to assume an accuracy of information which never yet has been attained.

Peace Not Served

Eisenhower said that if he were going to make any comment on the situation it would be to say he does not believe the peace of the world would be served by talking too much in terms of war.

Under other questioning, Eisenhower again declined to shed any light on whether the United States might go to the defense of the two Nationalist offshore islands if the Reds do attack them.

Official U. S. policy, as expressed in a resolution passed by Congress earlier this year gives the President authority to take whatever steps are necessary for defense of the main Nationalist bastion of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores.

The news conference also dealt with these other matters:

Big Four conference—Eisenhower said he wanted to reiterate that the United States is ready to do anything to ease world tension. He added however that so far as any top level conference of the Western powers with Russia is concerned there would be many dangers involved in holding a confer-

'Off-the-Record' Dinners Produce Puzzling Views

For Instance: When Will Red Chinese Attack Matsu?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the biggest stories of the past few days—that the Red Chinese would, and wouldn't, attack in the Formosa Strait by mid-April—must have left a lot of newspaper readers bewildered.

The stories not only appeared to contradict each other but in neither story, as it first broke, could the individual doing the talking be named. Both hold high official positions.

Both spoke with the understanding they would not be named in news stories.

This agreement applied only to the newsmen at the dinners. Others not there were free, if they could find out after the first stories appeared, to identify the dinner speakers. That has happened before in Washington. It happened this time.

Adm. Robert Carney, chief of naval operations, spoke at the first dinner Thursday night and stories were printed Saturday.

James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, has been named by the New York Post and the New York Daily News as the one who did the talking at the second dinner Monday night.

Stories coming out of the Carney dinner said the government believed Red China would begin its campaign to capture the Matsu and Quemoy islands by the middle of April.

Direct Conflict

Stories from the second dinner, appearing Tuesday, said Eisenhower himself did not believe Red China is prepared to start any major fighting in the Formosan area in the weeks immediately ahead. This threw down the Carney story.

These off-the-record dinners have become a kind of Washington institution among a limited number of newsmen who invite public officials to dine with them and talk without fear of being quoted directly or too closely identified. Such dinners were held in the Truman administration too.

The dinners are held with the idea that in this way newsmen can get out to the public information which government officials would not provide if the origin of it could be traced direcly back to them.

Blank Check

The newsmen attending these dinners are giving an official a blank check to say what he pleases without fear of being held responsible, unless later identified, for what he wants to put across.

And what he wants to put across may sometimes be, without the newsmen realizing it, a personal or special point of view. Or he may want to grind an ax for the administration in office. In short, newsmen can be used to funnel out "planted" stories.

And when flat statements are made by the reporter writing a news story—without identifying the individual who gave the information—the newspaper reader is left in the position of being told something whose worth he can't evaluate

Mant Wanted For Murder Kills Self

CHICAGO (AP)—A 60-year-old man sought for questioning in a shotgun slaying shot and killed himself early today as police pursuers closed in.

Nicola Angelillo, a deliveryman, shot himself in the head with a pistol after police curbed his truck in the 400 block on N. Western Ave. Police said Angelillo's only words were, "O.K.," as he pulled out a pistol and fired.

Policemen Gus Cammarata and Fred Pegler found a shotgun in Angelillo's truck.

An hour earlier, Pasquale Zito, 36-year-old cheese salesman, was slain and Jerry Marzullo, 28, received a minor neck wound by a single shotgun blast through a tavern window. Marzullo was sitting with Zito in the tavern at 931 S. Western Ave. on the Southwest Side.

The slayer fled in a truck which police said resembled the one Angelillo was driving when he was stopped.

Police said they have not been able to establish a motive for the killing of Zito. Marzullo, a city truck driver, said he could give no explanation for the shooting.

Labor Party Decides to Keep Bevan

LONDON (AP) — British Labor party chieftains today dropped a move to expel left-winger Aneurin Bevan. They obtained assurances from the fiery Welshman he would toe the official partyline in the future.

The National Executive — high command of the party — after a three-hour meeting accepted Bevan's promise to behave.

This was the first step by the party to patch up differences in the face of a general election possibly this summer or fall.

The 57-year-old rebel was ousted from labor rangs in parliament two weeks ago on charges of disloyalty for openly criticizing party leader Clement Attlee on the floor of the House of Commons.

Gambling, Liquor Making Flourish In Eastern Prison

BOSTON (AP)— Authorities today were investigating charges that liquor is manufactured at the Massachusetts State Prison, that organized gambling flourishes there and that hundreds of inmates live in terror of a group of desperate convicts.

The charges were made Tuesday, by six state prison guards, who asked that their names be withheld for their own safety.

Banning the Nuclear Tests

Every time we detonate a test A-bomb in Nevada, some of our friends abroad react with such anguish as to suggest their next day's breakfast has been contaminated by the radioactive fall-out.

Urgings are heard again and again that the tests be halted, and that this be a first step toward some sort of negotiated peace settlement with the Soviet Union.

The elements in this argument need to be carefully sifted.

First, scientists differ widely as to the effects on humans of the radioactive fall-out from recent and current nuclear experiments. None argues that these inflict physical harm on the present generation of humans. The debate centers on what radioactivity may have done or be doing to future generations through its possible effect on the body's reproductive materials.

Some say the present level and scale of tests is not serious. Others contend enough radioactive substance already is afloat in the atmosphere to do some human damage in the generations to come.

* * *

Our government specialists evidently hold that the danger is not serious, else the tests would not go on. But certainly there is some doubt, and men could reasonably listen to the opposing arguments.

Yet the urgings from many quarters do not seem to recognize any reasonableness in those who doubt the danger. The antitesters assume all experiment is a menace. They want no more of it. They wish there had never been any. They appear to regard the experimental explosion of a nuclear device as a virtual act of war.

Now, as Admiral Strauss noted in his comprehensive report on the Pacific H-bomb tests, if there had been none we could not possibly know the real size of the world's peril. The horror the antitest people decry (and who does not?) is something they could only have guessed at wildly without the tests. They and all of us might well have understated the danger. The tests measured our plight and underlined the importance of preserving the peace.

Furthermore, we cannot easily halt the tests so long as we assume—as we must in the interest of the free world's safety—that Russia is trying its best to develop more and more advanced nuclear weapons.

* * *

Should it then be asserted that the Russians, too, will be called on to stop their tests, the question arises as to how we may be assured of their compliance. Large atomic or hydrogen blasts can be detected outside Russia by measuring the atmosphere's radioactivity. But how do we prevent the blasts from occurring at all?

Obviously, enforcement of a ban on tests, like all disarmament proposals with real teeth, requires a system of rigid inspection. Russia has been cool to that idea from the start. Moreover, such a plan would have to be a subject for negotiation. And the antitest group has been saying the ban should come first, with negotiations on a broad front afterward.

As anyone knows who pays any attention to our tests, they are seasonal. There is plenty of time between each series of experiments for discussion of disarmament or any other reasonable proposal to end world tensions. All it takes is a sincere Soviet wish for a settlement.

Meantime, there's no doubt in the United States clamping a ban on nuclear tests when it has no assurance whatever that the Russians would follow suit in good faith.

When Looking for Wise Counsel, Consult Yourself

It is usually a mistake for a woman to ask advice of her women friends.

Take a woman friend along to help you pick out a hat and unless you are lucky you are liable to come home either without a hat or one you wish you hadn't bought. Why?

Well, with the best intentions in the world it is difficult for one woman to advise another about what she should wear. It is too hard for the advice giver to keep her own prejudices out of her opinion.

Without even intending too, she usually urges the other woman to buy something that catches her eye because it would be becoming to her.

ONLY YOU KNOW WHAT YOU WANT

What is true of clothes is just as true of home furnishings. Only you know what you really need, what you can afford to pay, what kind of an atmosphere you are trying to create. So when you take a friend along to help you pick out a sofa you are more likely to come home with one that would be just right for her house than with one just right for your own.

And certainly it isn't wise to consult your friends about your personal problems. They want to keep your friendship so they aren't going to tell you that you're in any way to blame if you tell them about the fight you and Jim had. They're going to side with you. And instead of getting a clear insight into your problem, you'll go home more convinced than ever that all the right is on your side.

So if you have a decision to reach, a problem to solve, or a selection to make, remember the woman who is most likely to steer you straight is you.

Your friends—with all the best intentions in the world—are more likely to give you poor advice than wise counsel.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Hollywood on TV: Breathes there a movie star with a memory so dead who never to himself has said:

"Film is my own—my native medium. If I forget a line they can re-shoot it. To heck with live television."

You're darned right it's been said.

But not by Joan Blondell, a movie queen who has found live television her cup of tea. Joan laughs about TV's lack of glamor compared to Hollywood's—"You don't get a set chair with your name on it; you're lucky to get a seat on the floor."

But properly rehearsed live television with no chance for retakes, she says, "puts bounce into a performance."

"Look," she told me on the Shower of Stars set during the "Burlesque" rehearsals, "I worked in 'Adventure' at MGM. The director took 152 takes of one scene. Why? Don't ask me. The first take was the best one. That's why live TV has bounce and why I like it."

FLITTING FROM HOME to home with its remote TV broadcasting equipment, "Person to Person" meets some of its most interesting people behind the camera.

Producer Jesse Zousmer, in Hollywood for the Marlon Brando interview told me this tale:

When the Ed Murrow show was setting up the Jonie James interview in New York, the owner of an apartment building was asked to sign a release permitting the TV crew to install its portable sending antenna on his rooftop.

"Sure," said the gent, "on two conditions. One, you give $50 to charity and two, Jonie James records a song my son-in-law wrote."

Murrow would be happy to give $50 to his favorite charity, Zousmer replied, but it would be impossible to arrange for Jonie to record his son-in-law's song.

"Then it's no deal," said the landlord. "No record—no roof."

Zousmer found another roof owned by a man without a songwriter in the family.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Dept. of English Bible, National Council of Churches

James 1:14 tells us that "each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desires." The Gospels represent the temptations of Jesus as having come through Satan. He was "tempted by the devil," says Matthew (4:1, RSV) and Luke (4:2, RSV); tempted by Satan," says Mark (1:13, RSV).

The Bible uses different figures of speech to represent the Evil One. In Genesis 3:13 it is a serpent; in 1 Peter 5:8, it is a lion; in Philippians 3:2 it is a dog; in Revelation 12:9 it is a dragon.

These creatures from the natural world are evidently intended to suggest subtlety, fierceness, roaming tendencies, unearthly power and violence. Evil does not have these characteristics. It does beset us in all these ways.

Artists have sometimes represented Jesus' temptation as an encounter between Him and a creature with horns and a tail. These latter are not Biblical in origin, but no details can be too repulsive in attempting to picture wills that are in rebellion against God.

The S[illegible] have not been especially noted for their contributions to the art of [illegible]. Yet many suppose that the Scottish artist W. Dyce has given us the most realistic of all representations of Jesus' encounter with [illegible]. He shows a [illegible] landscape and a Figure seated upon a stone. The hands are clasped and there is an expression of intense thought on the beautiful but manly features of Him who has gone alone into the desert.

TUCSON, Ariz.—Jenkin Lloyd Jones, of the Tulsa Tribune, which is consistently honest and courageous, made a speech to a collection of Arizona editors at Phoenix a few weeks ago. He told them that the trouble with our newspaper journalism of today's cowardice. Not venality but cowardice.. He said there were some awful crooks in charge of many papers years ago but they had plenty of guts. Too many fellows on the current roster are too comfortable, too fond of their material luxury, and their "importance," their country-club social status, to put it that way, to campaign for virtuous causes which would be unpopular with the majority of the readers, with "pressure" groups or retail advertisers. Mr. Jones had been asked to judge a contest among Texas newspapers for an award for public service. One paper had the gall to nominate itself because it had run a campaign against rabies.

"Well," Mr. Jones said, "who the hell is going to defend rabies?"

This is all by way of a practice swing.

I now call to your attention a particular case.

Mr. Jones' same Tulsa Tribune recently published a series of pious homilies entitled "Lenten Guideposts," accredited to "The Magazine Guidposts" and copyrighted by "Guideposts Associates, Carmel, N. Y." The particular piece that I refer to is one carried under the by-line of Charles A. Ward, of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Ward is president of Brown and Bigelow, which prints calendars, fancy labels and color-press advertising matter. It is an old firm of national renown which Ward acquired by a strange process following a term he had served in Leavenworth after being convicted of dealing in narcotics in Denver. In prison, he met Herbert Bigelow, who was doing a short jolt for income tax fraud. Being a fellow of commanding personality, Ward took Bigelow under his protection and eased his way. When they both got out, Bigelow took Ward into the business in St. Paul and in no time at all, Ward was the works. Bigelow and a woman were murdered by an unknown assassin and Ward was Bigelow's principal legatee. This crime has been the subject of many of those reminiscent mystery features. It never was solved. Apparently Bigelow was lured into a clandestine date.

It is needless to say that Mr. Jones was unaware of Ward's background when he printed this piece. I telegraphed to inquire where he got it. He replied "Lenten Guidepost syndicated by Des Moines Register Tribune Syndicate."

The Des Moines Register outfit operates the monopoly paper in Minneapolis, which is cheek-by-jowl with St. Paul. Everybody who knows anything in either city knows that Ward is a notorious character. He muscled into New Deal politics early in the game. He got a presidential pardon, staked Anna Roosevelt Boettinger to $50,000 for her newspaper flop in Phoenix and wrote it off along with the rest of the donors who had various obvious motives, and most recently turned up in the prosecution of Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., the former Democratic commissioner of Internal Revenue who was convicted of tax fraud himself and sentenced to prison. Ward paid Nunan $25,000, in stock of his company, to "expedite" a tax case involving Brown and Bigelow. Nunan's "services" as attorney to earn the $25,000 consisted of four telephone calls. Ward already had received a favorable ruling valuable to him from Nunan as commissioner.

The documents in this case were labelled "Commissioner interested."

Nunan resigned in June, 1947 and Ward hired him to make the phone calls in November. As a result of those calls the documents in the second problem were labelled "Rush," after months of delay.

Ward's power in politics is real and ruthless. He once tried to appoint the United States marshal in St. Paul. The FBI balked and cooperated with Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin and Ward's man did not get the job. He was close to the late Robert La Follette, Jr., who was either an accomplice or a tool of the Communists. Joe McCarthy beat him and thus eliminated Ward.

About 1935, Ward and La Follette conceived the idea of making a political revolution in the Midwest with either Ward or La Follette as the presidential nominee, although, at that time, Ward could not even vote, to say nothing of holding office.

In the 1947 tax problem, Ward's personal lawyer proposed that Ward engage the late Robert Hannegan, of the Truman Missouri gang, who died rich after a penniless start and a short career. He was chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Postmaster General. He was too busy to take Ward's business so Nunan got it.

Ward has claimed that he soldiered with Pancho Villa in Mexico, but his whole career is cloudy and that phase is not verified. The federal judge who sentenced him in Denver gave him an unusual tongue-lashing which summed him up as an inveterate rascal of long experience in the underworld.

Ever since he got into Brown and Bigelow, Ward has made a boast of his preference for ex-convicts. He claims he runs with them because he sympathizes with them in their social problems. Nevertheless some resemble Al Capone's cowboys of "muscle."

On the 25th anniversary of Ward's graduation from Leavenworth, Truman sent him a written greeting, supplementing one of those phony "E" awards which were tossed around during the war. After Truman left the White House, Ward offered him $100,000 a year to be his sales manager.

The Cowles Brothers, who own the Minneapolis and Des Moines newspaper monopolies, know Ward's whole story and they once gave him the standard glamor treatment in "Look."

In his "Lenten Guidepost," Ward sprinkles himself over with new-mown lilies as a great philanthropist and a sinner who has reformed.

What's Right?

If you start in to say something nice about a person whose name comes up in a conversation don't spoil the effect of your complimentary remark by adding "but . . ." The criticism that follows will make more of an impression than the compliment.

And it is just as likely to be repeated, too.

Some experts believe that by 1976 half the new power station installations will use atomic energy.

The Doctor Says

Flat Feet Are Common But Generally Can Be Helped

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Although flat feet are certainly common enough there must be few families such as Mrs. M.'s. She wrote: "Our family seems to be plagued with flat feet. My grandmother had them, my father, myself and now my daughter. My sister and brother also have some children with flat feet. Do we all have to go through life with this?"

You do not. In this instance it certainly sounds as though the flat feet were a congenital defect running in Mrs. M.'s family. Even here often much can be done. In other cases flat feet may be the result of injury or paralysis or simply of breaking down as a result of excessive weight bearing or use. Quite often the flat feet owe their origin to the use of poorly fitting shoes and sometimes overweight is responsible merely by putting more weight on the arches than they can stand.

MOST PEOPLE THINK of flat feet as a simple breaking down of the arch lying between the base of the big toe and the heel. When this weakens it is indeed one aspect of flat feet. But there is another arch at the ball of the foot, which also can be broken down and cause a great deal of difficulty. Often the first sign of trouble in this second arch is the formation of a callous which may be tender or painful.

NORMAL ARCHES ARE important for comfortable feet, especially for those whose occupations require a great deal of standing or walking. Fortunately, fallen arches usually can be cured by proper treatment except perhaps in those who are very old or where the condition has existed for an extremely long time. But it is generally not wise to build up the arches to their normal position all at once.

They are usually best built up gradually with the help of felt pads in the shoes which can be added layer by layer. Of course, the shoes worn during this period have to be particularly fitted. Sometimes bars or other devices are placed on the outside of the shoe itself.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE broken arches need to be told the proper way to walk so that the trouble is less likely to come back. Walking around the floor on the outside edges of the feet, grasping the edge of a carpet with the toes or similar exercises are often useful in restoring strength to the muscles and ligaments which are supposed to hold the arches in normal place.

The use of contrast foot baths, that is, alternately immersing the feet in hot and cold water, sometimes helps to relieve the discomfort and to stimulate the circulation. By proper advice and persistence even some of the most advanced cases can be greatly helped.

The MATURE PARENT

MOTHERHOOD ISN'T GETTING THE RESPECT WE THINK IT IS

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Several weeks ago I attended a dinner party whose guests included a successful career-woman mother. She had just returned from a business trip to Europe to discover that her married daughter was going to have a baby. The news had appalled her.

Why, do you suppose?

Because, as she estimated it, she had spent some $10,000 on her daughter's education—first, an exclusive preparatory school then an expensive women's university, and after that art study in Italy.

The art study in Italy had ended, not in an exhibit of daughter Janet's work in a fashionable gallery not in reviews of it by critics, not even in a well-paying job in the advertising department of a woman's magazine. It had ended in love for a young man—and marriage.

"Now," said her mother to me "this child is coming. That's the finale, I guess. I want to kick myself. Years of this talk about an art career—and now she sends it all down the drain with some baby's bath water."

How many other parents feel this when the daughters they have sent to college get married and have babies?

I think many of us do. Though we may not express our disappointment so frankly as my fellow-guest I think many of us feel that higher education of daughters is a poor investment. And that their presumption in having babies instead of careers is a bad return on their education.

This is, of course, contempt for motherhood.

I don't think we respect motherhood nearly so much as we imagine we do. Despite what the psychologists tell us, I don't think we really register what they say. Yet every new discovery they make confirms their conviction that mothers have limitless influence upon this earth through their capacity to teach love or hate to children.

In my last column, I quoted from psychiatrist Abram Kardiner's fine new book, "Sex and Morality." Now I quote again. He writes: "The tender emotions have lost meaning for us because they interfere with the business world's prevailing values. Why did the feminists so uncritically swallow the male ideals of economic power and prestige?"

Well, I guess an African servant tends to covet his white master's dinner jacket. The tradition of his master's superiority would make it appear desirable, despite jungle heat of 110 degrees. Operating out of centuries of submission, he might prefer to sweat in his master's adaptation, despite the jacket's bad fit and discomfort.

The "equal rights" ladies were operating out of submissiveness, too.

ence without a specific list of topics to be covered.

Reminded that Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday that preparation for a Big Four conference might take months, Eisenhower remarked that was not an easy matter to discuss.

Eisenhower also said there is the question of whether West Germany should be invited to the conference.

How, he asked, could you talk about Germany unless Germany were represented? And if you brought in one country, should you bring in others, and where would you draw the line?

Paris agreements — The President said he wanted to express his gratification over ratification of the Paris agreements by both Italy and France. He said he couldn't possibly exaggerate in expressing his satisfaction.

Bipartisan talks—Noting that he is meeting at the White House today with Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and with Senate leaders of both parties Thursday, the President said the discussions would deal with the world situation generally.

He added that the meetings were arranged, starting a couple of weeks ago, with no specific purpose in mind.

Farm—Eisenhower said he does not believe the administration's new flexible farm price support program has been responsible for any decline in farm prices. He said the decline in recent years took place under the old rigid price support program. He added that the new flexible plan which became effective at the start of this year, has not been in operation long enough to reflect any change in farm prices.

Mudslinging — Eisenhower declared he is against any mudslinging in public life. He made that remark when told that Sens. Carlson R-Kan and Smathers D-Fla had suggested there be an end to any mudslinging. The reporter did not say what prompted the suggestion by the senators.

Carlson and Smathers made the suggestion on a TV show Tuesday night. They did not connect it with any particular incident, but their remarks followed a summary by commentator John Daly of the controversy over criticisms of Eisenhower by Sen. Neely (D-WVa.)

Neely gibed at the President's golfing and fishing in a speech before the CIO United Auto Workers in Cleveland Monday. He also said Eisenhower tried to "parade his religion," noting that newspapers frequently published pictures of the President attending church.

Several Republican senators hit back at what they called Neely's trying to inject religion into politics.

Overexertion Blamed for Man's Death

AMBOY — (Special) — A Lee County Coroner's jury Tuesday ruled that Floyd Teachout, 72, Ottawa, died about noon Tuesday of coronary thrombosis apparently caused by over-exertion while repairing his car.

Teachout collapsed in front of his car near the north edge of Amboy and died while en route to the hospital. He was a former Dixon resident and reportedly was en route to Dixon when his car apparently developed motor trouble.

Teachout was found unconscious on the shoulder of Rt. 52. The hood of his car was up and the carburetor was reportedly dismounted.

Robert Dickinson and William Kehoe, both of Amboy, testified as eye-witnesses during the inquest held in the Mihm Funeral Home, Amboy.

Graveside services will be held at 3:15 p.m. in Oakwood cemetery, Dixon, with the Rev. Harry Stelling, Ottawa, officiating. Regular services will be held at 1 p.m. in the Glattfelder Funeral Home, Ottawa.

He was born Jan. 3, 1883, in Lanark, Ill., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teachout. He and his family moved from Dixon 30 years ago.

He was preceded in death by his widow, Edith, and a son, Robert.

He is survived by twin sons, William, Decatur, and Albert, Ottawa; a daughter, Mrs. Floyd (Mary) Clark, Ottawa; two sisters, Mrs. Earl Kennedy, Dixon, and Mrs. Harry Major, Elgin; a brother, Harry, Dixon; and three grandchildren.

Plan Local Organization Of United Church Women

At a meeting Tuesday in the Walter Memorial Chapel of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 20 women representatives of various Protestant churches of the Dixon area completed plans for furthering the work and fellowship among the churches and in the community as a whole through the organization of a local Council of United Church Women.

The date for this forward step in the ecumenical life of this area is Friday, May 6, which is observed nationally by the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches as May Fellowship Day. At that time officers will be elected and a constitution proposed. This service will be held in the Fellowship Hall of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, beginning at 2 p.m. and will be open to all women of the community.

Further details will be published at a later date, but women are asked to plan to attend this first May Fellowship Day in Dixon.

Mrs. Howard S. Bechtolt, long a worker in interdenominational fields, will be the speaker. Women of the Dixon churches have cooperated for many years in the annual World Day of Prayer, which is only one of the three important services sponsored by the United Church Women.

He added that the police department is "taking every precaution to assure the people that their cars will be safe."

The Hazelwood and Grand Detour districts were annexed to Dixon last year.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—By unanimous voice vote the Senate today passed a bill for a 750 million dollar pay increase for more than 1,600,000 of the three million persons in the armed services.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), floor manager for the bill, said he hopes the pay boosts can go into effect Friday, April 1.

This would be possible if the the House, which previously passed the legislation, accepts two Senate amendments and President Eisenhower signs the the legislation by Thursday.

Felons End Rebellion In Nebraska

The convicts surrendered after four of them received personal assurances from Gov. Victor E. Anderson on the prison punishment they would receive.

Guards Released First

The guards, Eugene Swarson, 34, and Warren Miller, 43, were released first. Thirteen minutes later the eight rebel convicts and the hostage inmate walked unguarded to the main prison buildings where, by agreement with the governor, a warm meal was awaiting them.

Eleven men had been holed up since 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the maximum security building, a three-story brick and concrete structure, separated from the other prison buildings although on the prison grounds.

Their only food had been a loaf of bread and some sugar which the convicts shared with their hostages.

Gave Terms

Gov. Anderson, who took command at the prison shortly after the rebellion started, had insisted from the outset that the guards would have to be released before he would deal directly with the convicts.

The two guards said they were threatened with knives when captured, but were well treated after that.

About 11 p.m. Tuesday night the prison rebels sent word they wanted an interview. Gov. Anderson altered his previous stand and agreed to talk to one prisoner at a time.

Dixon Man Jailed on Rape Count

William Wallace Simms, 38, 1513 Ninth St., Dixon, today was in Lee county jail charged with the rape of his 12-year-old stepdaughter.

The complaint was signed by Simms' wife, Frances. The child is one of three from a former marriage by Mrs. Simms. There are three other children.

Simms was arraigned Tuesday and placed under $5,000 bond. Unable to post the bond, he was remanded to jail. He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing April 6. State's Atty. James Bales said today that he will attempt to bring the case before the April Grand Jury.

Sheriff John Stouffer arrested Simms Tuesday afternoon aided by City Police Officers Frank Chapman and Ernest Smallwood.

The girl was taken to a physician, authorities said, who confirmed that the girl had been molested.

Praises Allen

Oechsle singled out Congressman Leo E. Allen, Galena, for praise for "adroit and influential" work in pushing the Eisenhower program in the 83rd Congress.

The speaker quoted President Eisenhower's philosophy, "A liberal attitude toward the welfare of the people and a conservative approach to the use of their money . . ." and said "His (the President's) program is making America stronger and more prosperous and is giving every citizen the opportunity to enjoy better health, better schools, better highways and better homes. His personality has given our people confidence that a steady hand is charting America's course toward a brighter future for all."

Looking to the future, Oechsle discussed automation—the push-button factory, the completely automatic production line.

Automation is in our future, he said, but it has become a subject about which there is "needless alarm."

Means More Jobs

Basing his opinion on the development of production in the past, Oechsle suggested that automation will mean more—not fewer—jobs. "Like mechanization, it will increase output per man hour and enable workers to enjoy quantities of goods htat only the most fortunate of our forefathers could afford."

"Automation is mechanization in the electronic age. It is coming first to America because we have a free economy. As long as we keep it free, as long as we march forward, unafraid of progress, I see no ceiling for our rising standard of living."

Early Attack Expected by Matsu Leader

MATSU ISLAND (AP)—The commander of the Chinese Nationalist garrison on this far edge of the free world expects the Communists to attack at any time but will not commit himself to a date.

Col. Hua told visiting newsmen today "it looks as though they intend to come pretty soon, maybe tomorrow, maybe next week—or it might be next year, you can't tell."

Hua (the censor would not permit use of his full name), a tough 36-year-old Shansi fighter, says Red activity on the coast nine miles away from this bleak crag smells like trouble. The Reds are busier than they have ever been. Hua said he had no idea which of the seven islands under his command the Reds might choose to attack but he said his forces (estimated at 11,000) are ready all along the island chain.

No One Will Trade: Leo

Giants Need Pitcher for 4th Starter

Chisox Strand 13 But Win; Indians Fall to Cubs, 9-7

By the Associated Press

Early reports to the contrary, the champion New York Giants are not a stand-pat club. It just looks that way, says Manager Leo Durocher, because "nobody wants to trade with us."

About the only deal getting a good rumor rating with the Giants is one sending Frankie Baumholtz, Chicago Cubs outfielder, to the New Yorkers for some second-line pitchers (Al Corwin, Al Worthington and George Spencer).

But what Leo wants is another pitcher and perhaps some infield support to stopgap second baseman Davey Williams' back miseries.

Davey Williams Bobby Shantz

"This is a good club," said Durocher Tuesday as the Giants broke camp to start the long trip to the Polo Grounds. "Man for man it's solid.

"But I'd feel more secure if I could get a real good pitcher."

The pitcher Leo wants would be a fourth starter behind Sal Maglie, Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez.

Other managers were having their troubles.

Eddie Stanky pulled Stan Musial out of the St. Louis Cardinals outfield and put him back on first base as the Redbirds belted Eddie Lopat and a New York Yankee "B" team 6-2. Stanky is looking for more punch at first, where Musial hit .365 in 1946 and .312 in 1947.

Rookie Bill Verdon moved in to fill out the Cards' outfield and slugged a home run, along with Wally Moon and rookie Ken Boyer.

Shantz Hurt

Manager Lou Boudreau of Kansas City got a new worry when southpaw Bobby Shantz, the hard luck guy, was felled on the mound by a line drive off the bat of rookie Earl Smith as Pittsburgh beat the Athletics 9-8. X-rays failed to show serious injury.

Three Brooklyn Dodgers—Don Newcombe, Clem Labine and Don Zimmer—also were hit by batted and pitched balls, but they, too, escaped serious injury. The incidents occurred in pregame drills before the Brooks made four hits good for a 5-4 victory over Milwaukee.

Art Fowler and Jim Pearce allowed just three hits and catcher Ed Bailey hit a home run as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Washington 5-1.

Banks Homers

The Yanks' regulars knocked off Detroit 6-1 with Bob Turley making his first good showing of the spring. He gave up just two hits in five innings, although walking five.

Ernie Banks kept his bat in action, lining a run-scoring single and his third home run in two days, as the Cubs beat Cleveland 9-7.

Baltimore tripped Philadelphia 6-3. Rookie Don Leppert and veteran Gene Woodling drove in two runs each.

The Chicago White Sox had 13 men left on base but still pulled out a 5-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

ABC Scoring Pace Slows: Only One Top Ten Change

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The scoring pace in the 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament slowed Tuesday.

The day's top singles score was 658, by Frank Iannerelli of Worcester, Mass., putting him in seventh place.

No other scores disturbed the top 10 in other divisions.

Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee is still leading two events. His 738 tops the singles and his 1,938 leads the all-events. Both scores were shot Monday.

Ralph Moorman and William Berding of Cincinnati lead in the doubles with the 1,260 they posted Sunday.

Howard's Clothes of St. Paul lead the open team division with 3,015 shot Saturday night.

Wisconsin to Defend NCAA Boxing Crown

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)— Sixty-two students from 17 colleges in the United States and Hawaii start a long scramble Thursday for honors in the National Collegiate boxing tournament.

The three day event will name a team champion, nine individual titlists and the outstanding boxer.

Back to defend the crowns they won last year are Seiji Naya of the University of Hawaii, 125 pounds; Vince Palumbo, Maryland, 132; John Granger, Syracuse, 139; Herb Odom, Michigan State, 147, and Mike McMurtry, Idaho State, heavyweight. Gordy Gladson, Washington State, won the 165-pound title last year, but he will try for the 178-pound crown here.

Returning to defend its team championship is the University of Wisconsin, which has captured the national title seven times. Given the best chance to take the title away are Michigan State and Louisiana State.

The team championship scoring is one point for a quarterfinal win, three points for a semifinal victory and five for a championship.

Eastern Hopes Rise for Win in Golden Gloves

CHICAGO (AP)—New York's hopes for a second straight intercity Golden Gloves championship went soaring today.

The Easterners, who arrived for workouts Tuesday, learned that two of Chicago's champions will not be competing Thursday night.

Jess Bowdry, St. Louis middleweight, was sent home for disciplinary reasons and Richard Wall, Omaha welterweight, had to pass up the bouts because of studies at the University of Oklahoma.

Another bright aspect in the Eastern camp was the announcement that Rudy (KP) Corney of Brooklyn will be ready. Corney suffered a hand injury in training.

Dr. Benjamin Malerba, New York team physician, however, revealed after examining the hand that Corney will be able to fight "barring further injury."

The Chicago team topped off its whirlwind training program with each of the 18 fighters going a full three rounds Tuesday in an attempt to win spots on the card.

Coaches must pick their fighters by weighing in time Thursday afternoon.

Seek·Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Lakin, manager of lightweight L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio, announced Tuesday night he'll put up $3,500 if Lauros Salas of Los Angeles will fight Morgan in Youngstown next month.

Musial Returns to First; Creates All-Star Problem

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—It could be tough to pick the National league's first baseman for this year's all-star game with Stan (the Man) Musial tapped for probable infield duty again.

Eddie Stanky, St. Louis Cardinal manager, put Musial on first base in Tuesday's exhibition game against the New York Yankees and admitted this will probably be part of his regular lineup.

In the switch, rookie Bill Virdon was sent to center field with Wally Moon moving from center to left and Rip Repulski from left to right field Musial's old spot.

If Musial, one of the game's best hitters whether he's in the infield or outfield, opens at first base he'll be matched against the likes of Brooklyn's Gil Hodges, Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and Milwaukee's Joe Adcock come all-star picking time.

Option Cunningham

Stan played first base for the Cardinals in 1946, their last pennant-wining year, and again in 1947 but has been used there only in emergencies for the last seven seasons.

The Cards optioned Joe Cunningham, regular first baseman the last part of the '54 season, to Rochester of the International League.

Cunningham and Tom Alston, lanky first sacker who flopped in his debut last year, had been competing for the infield spot in spring training. Alston has a .277 batting average on 13 hits in 47 trips and Cunningham has only one hit in 17 trips to the plate. Cunningham was beaned recently in an exhibition game.

Stan Musial

Virdon has a feeble .146 average this spring but has been praised by Stanky for his speed, throwing arm and fielding. He won the International League batting title with a .333 average last year.

Musial, an $80,000-a-year player and a .330 hitter last year, has won the league's batting title six times.

Robinson Will Continue After Split Decision in Bout Tuesday

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the man who gave up dancing in an attempt to regain the world's middleweight boxing championship, says he is going to keep right on the comeback trail.

That was Robinson's word Tuesday night after he had won a split decision over Johnny Lombardo of Mount Carmel, Pa., in a 10 round bout at the Cincinnati Garden before 5,124 paying customers. The fight was neither broadcast nor televised.

It was the third bout for Robinson since he came out of retirement. He won one and lost one.

"If I have it, I will continue," Robinson said after Tuesday night's fight. "If I don't, I'll give up."

He next meets Ted Olla in Milwaukee on April 14.

Lombardo, weighing 153 pounds, took a slight lead in the first four rounds because of his aggressiveness. He scored heavily from the inside with his left hook.

Robinson, nine pounds heavier but 10 years older, at 34, than his opponent, started to open up in the fifth round. He landed so many blows in the ninth that Lombardo got sick to his stomach at the end of the round.

Fight Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Veteran featherweight Willie Pep goes against youngster Gil Cadilli tonight in a nationally televised bout at nearby Parks Air Force Base.

CBS will telecast the scheduled 10-rounder at 9 p.m. CST.

Cadilli has won 21, lost three times and fought two draws.

Pep, the ex-feather king who will be 33 in September, has only six losses and one draw with 159 victories.

Score 3-0 Verdict Over Maple Leafs

Canadians Grab 3-1 Game Lead Over Boston Six

By the Associated Press

The streaking Detroit Red Wings, having disposed of the Toronto Maple Leafs in easy fashion, sat by today and awaited the outcome of the Montreal-Boston series to determine their opponent in the National Hockey League playoff finals.

The Wings blanked Toronto 3-0 Tuesday night to sweep their best-of-seven series, 4 games to 0. Detroit, the league champion, has won 13 games in a row— including the last nine games of the regular season.

Montreal edged Boston's 4-3 on rookie Don Marshall's sudden death overtime goal. The Canadiens lead the best-of-seven set 3 games to 1 and can clinch the series at Montreal Thursday night.

The Wings, aiming for their seventh Stanley Cup, were in command all the way as they outclassed the Leafs.

Marshall, a 23-year-old center, scored Montreal's winning goal when the Canadiens were a man short. Defenseman Butch Bouchard sat in the penalty box.

New Scoring System Used In Tourney

CLEVELAND (AP)—A new scoring system will be used in the annual professional tennis tournament opening at Cleveland Arena Thursday night.

Jack March, tournament director, has announced that scoring will be as in table tennis—21 points constituting a set, only one service instead of two, and change of service after each five points. All matches will be best of five sets.

Dick Gonzales, champion the past two years and whose cannon ball service is one of the strong points of his game, didn't appear upset by the changed rules. He said, "I won't change my game, and I think I'm playing just about as well as ever."

Bobby Riggs, who has worn both amateur and pro crowns, liked the revised scoring and service setup.

"It will take some of the stress off that first service. I'm all for it."

Eight singles matches are scheduled Thursday night, singles and doubles semifinals on Friday and finals on Saturday.

Fight for Illinois 160 Pound Title

CHICAGO (AP)—The middleweight championship of Illinois will be at stake in a 10-round bout between Bobby Boyd and Lloyd Triplett at Marigold Garden Tuesday night.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission Tuesday approved the bout as a state title affair which requires a $500 forfeit fee if either fighter fails to make the 160 pound limit.

Boyd has a 31-5-1 record with 18 knockouts. His last defeat was to former state middleweight champion, Spider Webb in March, 1954. Webb, who also has defeated Triplett, is in military service. Triplett has a 21-6-4 record.

Wind-up Drills

BOSTON (AP)—Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton and challenger Tony De Marco of Boston wind up their drills today for Friday night's title bout in Boston Garden.

The box office sale is near $50,000 for their 15-round non-televised, non-broadcast match.

Campy, Newk Hold Dodger Key

By JACK HAND

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Can Brooklyn bounce back and dethrone the New York Giants? The answer probably rests in the left hand of catcher Roy Campanella and the right arm of pitcher Don Newcombe.

"If those two fellows can come back, they can stimulate the rest of the club," said Manager Walter Alston.

"Campanella has indicated he can swing a bat a lot better than last year when he was nursing that hand after his operation," Alston continued.

"About Newcombe, we can't be sure yet. In the first 13 innings he pitched, he didn't walk a man. He has been throwing harder than he did last year when he was troubled off and on with a sore shoulder."

Lost by Five

Although the Dodgers, favored to win in a romp, finished second to New York in '54, they were beaten only five games. A sound Campanella and Newcombe could close that gap.

Pitching has been the Dodgers' main headache, ever since Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Campanella started to win pennants with their power in 1949.

Karl Spooner, the rookie southpaw phenom who broke in with two successive shutouts and a total of 27 strikeouts late last season, has been bothered by a sore arm. However, the Dodger brass counts on the fast-balling youngster to live up to his brilliant promise. He had a 21-9 record at Fort Worth last summer before he moved up to the Brooks.

Alston's starters are Carl Erskine (18-15), Newcombe (9-8), Johnny Podres (11-7), Billy Loes (13-5) and Spooner (2-0) with Russ Meyer (11-6) working against certain clubs. For relief, he'll have Jim Hughes (8-4), Clem Labine (7-6) and probably Joe Black (12-10 at Montreal).

Don Zimmer (.291 at St. Paul) may open the season at second base instead of Junior Gilliam (.282), if he can hit. Gil Hodges (.304), second in homers and tied with teammate Duke Snider for runnerup in runs batted in, is the first baseman. Pee Wee Reese (.309) will be at short with Jackie Robinson (.311) probably settling down at third despite a strong challenge by Don Hoak (.245).

Campy to Catch

Robinson, of course, may wind up in left field again but Sandy Amoros (.274) will get a good shot at the job. Snider (.341) is the center fielder and Carl Furillo (.294) in right. Bert Hamric, a lefthanded hitter who batted .350 at St. Paul, has a solid chance.

Campanella will do most of the catching unless he has a recurrence of the miseries that melted his average to .207 last year, 74 points below his lifetime average. Rube Walker (.181) will be No. 2 again.

Four Lettermen Return

17 Out for Track at Ohio

OHIO—(Special)—Four lettermen are included among the 17 boys who reported to Coach Jim Kettleborough for track at the Ohio high school.

Kettelborough figures his top point getters this season will be Ron Morgensen, Tom Gugerty and Dick Anderson.

Morgensen, a shot put and discus specialist, can put the shot 45 feet or better which should make him one of the top men in Little Eight competition.

Anderson and Gugerty are expected to clear the high jump bar at 5-6 or better.

Gugerty and Morgensen, along with Tom McGraw and Bob Walter, are the lettermen. Beside the high jump, Gugerty will also run the hurdles while McGraw runs the distances and Walter runs the 440.

Kettleborough is high on freshman Fred Allen who could become a good miler. He also competes in the high jump.

Other candidates include: Jack Sheridan, dashes and broad jump; Junior Todd, shot and discus; Ormie Conner, 440 and broad jump; Don Townsend, hurdles and pole vault; Dave Etheridge, 880; Dave Ioder, 880; Arlen Schultz, shot and discus; Stan Brandau, dashes and Dave McGraw, distances.

The Bulldogs open their season April 7 with a triangular meet at Walnut with Sterling (Newman).

The schedule:

April 7—Ohio and Sterling at Walnut.

Postpone Swim

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP)— High winds and heavy seas late Tuesday night forced postponement of 18-year-old Janice White's scheduled attempt to swim the strait of Juan De Fuca from Victoria to Port Angeles, Wash.

A tentative new date of 4 a.m. Thursday was set but officials said that even that is doubtful because the weather may not have moderated sufficiently.

Miss White, daughter of a Toronto businessman, is an unknown in eastern swimming circles. She will brave water of between 45 and 50 degrees in the 22-mile swim which never has been accomplished.

CHICAGO—L. C. Morgan, 140, Youngstown, Ohio, knocked out Carl Stafford, 142, Chicago, 4.
TRENTON, N. J.—[illegible], Philadelphia, outpointed Charley Slaughter, 131, Westfield, N. J., [illegible]

Eleven Receive Letters at Walnut; Anderson Speaks

WALNUT—(Special)—Doug Etheridge won the Walnut high school free throw award and 11 varsity basketball players were awarded letters at the annual Walnut Athletic banquet here Tuesday night.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, head football coach at Holy Cross and former Iowa grid mentor, was the guest speaker.

Anderson told the gathering that winning is not as important as sportsmanship and he emphasized the academic side of education.

When a boy comes out of a class or a sport, whether he likes being there or not, he should have gained something from it. "You should always have a goal" whenever you go into something, the Doctor said.

Etheridge won the free throw award with a .667 average for the season.

Major letter winners were Joe Hassler, Denny Snider, Roy Lathrop, Ross Alshouse, Joe Waterhouse, seniors; Doug Etheridge Gail Carlson, Bill Edson, Don Gustafson, juniors, and Ned Waterhouse and Ron Burkey, sophomores.

State Democrats Seeking Sales Tax Aid for Cities

Chicagoan Says Relief To Municipalities Needed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill (P)—Minority Democrats today promised a legislative drive to help out financially straitened Illinois cities

What form the campaign would take remained a question mark but the main hope seemed to be getting a share for municipalities in proceeds of a three cent state sales tax

Gov. Stratton, in his budget message to the General Assembly Monday, said nothing about money problems of cities

He recommended a penny boost in the 2 per cent state sales levy for one year starting July 1 and said the extra revenue should be channeled for school and welfare purposes

Wants Allocation

Sen William J Lynch of Chicago, Democratic minority leader said the Republican governor "failed to take into consideration the third largest financial problem in the state"

"I can't support provision for a higher sales tax unless there's an allocation to cities" he added

Lynch, whose views are paralleled by those of Rep James J Ryan (D-Chicago), House minority leader, takes the position that any rise in the sales levy would have to remain on the books for longer than a year

"The needs that require a rise aren't going to evaporate a few months before the 1956 election," he told a reporter

In a separate interview Ryan said he couldn't vote for a higher sales tax "unless there is provision for helping Chicago meet the cost of fire and police protection"

He said a program for the strong House Democratic contingent from Chicago would have to await the outcome of Tuesday's mayoralty election there. All told Republicans outnumber Democrats in the House only 78 to 74

Elections Halt Action

A L Sargent, executive secretary of the Illinois Municipal League, said April elections all over the state to determine the makeup of new city administrations are holding up crystallization of an IML city aid program.

"We have some things we're working on and will be ready with proposals soon," he said.

Lynch said perhaps consideration should be given to legislative authorization of a payroll tax in Chicago and the larger downstate cities where many workers and businessmen who live outside the municipal limits earn their incomes but pay little or no taxes

He said revision of the state Constitution's revenue or taxation article held hope of long run relief for financially distressed cities.

"But because of the time involved in getting a final decision on the question and implementing a possible new revenue article at the 1957 legislative session not a dollar of help could be realized until 1959" Lynch said

If the Assembly approves a new revenue article by the required two thirds vote it would go on the 1956 general election ballot

Chicago Mayor Candidates Stage Rallies

CHICAGO (P)—A cowboy parade at the stockyards and a colorful pageant in Chicago Stadium highlighted the latest electioneering by the city's mayoral candidates.

Richard J. Daley, 52-year-old Democratic nominee, headed the parade, mounting a horse in recollection that in 1919 after graduation from high school he went to wrok in the stockyards as a cowboy.

Daley addressed a rally of around 500 stockyards workers and commission merchants, promising to "do my best for the great city that has given me so much."

On the other side of the battle, Robert E Merriam, Republican candidate, and a pageant called "Rainbow over Chicago," with free admission, pulled an estimated 10,000 persons to the Stadium. It was his largest campaign crowd

The pageant included singers, musicians and dancers who represented many nationalities living in Chicago.

Merriam, 36, has been a strong advocate of economy in the City Council where he has served as alderman He has attacked the Democrats repeatedly since breaking with them a year ago and going over to the Republican side.

During his rally speech he repeated charges of fraudulent vote registrations for the election next Tuesday. Some of the names on the registration list, he said are for men who have died while others carry addresses of vacant lots and buildings

ISTANBUL (P)— Experts at the Istanbul Archeological Museum have been cracking jokes about the new beard on their sandstone statue which dates from the 7th century B. C.

Tree Planting Sessions Scheduled April 6 and 22

By GEORGE D. PERISHO
Ogle County Farm Adviser

George D. Perisho

OREGON—(Special)—There are still species of forest trees that may be obtained from the state nurseries. Anyone who has a few acres of land that should be converted to timber area may realize some income from these acres. Why not stop by the office or contact Paul Olson so that your order will be filled by the state nurseries this year?

Some of the species of trees that are obtainable are: Black locust, black walnut seed, osage orange, soft maple, jack pine, red cedar, red pine white pine, ash multiflora rose, red gum, tulip poplar, bald cypress, and shortleaf pine.

Recently someone asked how they could plant three or four thousand trees on their farm. They felt the job would be an endless undertaking. If you have a question in your mind concerning the planting of trees, why not attend the tree planting demonstration at the Clinton Hill farm on April 6. Christmas trees will be planted on a plot at Hill's farm which is located 2½ miles northwest of Kings. Planting will begin at 9 a. m. and will continue until all the trees are planted. Depending upon local conditions and the type of planter used, you can plant from 400 to 1,000 trees per hour.

Another tree planting demonstration will be held at the White Eagle 4-H Camp grounds, 1½ miles east of Adeline, on April 22, at 9 a. m.

Mark April 7 as the date to go to the University for a look at up-to-date swine production practices. Harvey Newcomer, Mt. Morris called in a few days ago and asked that I reserve a seat in my car for him. He said he would not miss Swine Growers' Day because of the worthwhile information he would receive, unless it was necessary for him to do so because of sickness or some other circumstances. Harvey attended Swine Growers' Day two years ago and I will never forget the comments and praise that he gave the University of Illinois for their experimental work in swine feeding.

This year's swine day program will feature talks by J. A. Whatley, Jr., of Oklahoma A. & M. College, Stillwater, Okla., and Wilbert N. Stevenson, Streator, who are specialists in a swine breeding program.

Visitors will tour the swine farm and hear reports on early weaning, creep-feeding, and swine-breeding trials. Swine specialists will also discuss studies comparing pasture with dry lot feeding, complete rations with free-choice feeding, and methods of cutting feed costs of bred sows and gilts.

If you are planning to attend this Swine Growers' Day and do not have transportation, please let me know as we might be able to find additional room in my car.

A few days ago one of our farmers stopped by the office and inquired about the value of a particular brand of fertilizer which advertised that it had additional micro-organisms that were needed in the soil and also that it had a large quantity of micro elements.

In commenting on this particular fertilizer, I would like to first say that companies making trace element fertilizers usually do so to cover a large number of deficiencies. It so happens that we have failed to find any indication of mico-element deficiency in the soils in this area, other than possibly iodine from the standpoint of animal health. From the viewpoint of crop yields, nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium are the primary needs of the soil if it has a favorable pH or limestone acidity reaction.

The product that was questioned had very little available plant food elements. The analysis was 286 and the amount of organic material which would be applied according to their recommendations is insignificant when compared with the amount which is returned to soils by crop residues and green manure crops. Furthermore, there is no need to add micro-organisms to soils except in the case of nodule bacteria. If soil conditions are favorable, and under our circumstances in Ogle County, 95 per cent of our soils are favorable for plant food growth, microbes will be present in abundance that are necessary for good plant growth.

* * *

Floyd Coffman, Forreston, recently commented on the need for a good seed bed in putting out legumes and grasses for pasturing. Not only that, Floyd has also found that it is quite necessary to have accurate soil tests and apply plant food according to recommendations of the farm adviser.

Many of you folks will be planning to seed legumes and grasses within the next few weeks. Some mixtures we are recommending for this area are as follows: 6 to 8 pounds alfalfa, ¼ to ½ pound ladino and 5 pounds timothy or 5 pounds bromegrass. Another mixture that will be used is ½ pound ladino clover, 4 pounds red clover and 4 pounds timothy. If you have some permanent pasture you are planning to renovate and would like to leave it down in pasture for a longer period of time, why not use 5 pounds of birdsfoot trefoil, 2 pounds red clover and 3 pounds timothy or 4 pounds bromegrass. By all means purchase good quality seed which is as near weed-free as possible.

What type of concrete should I use in making my feeding floors or building foundations? Should they be quick setting or normal, or air-entraining cement? Many people do not know that there are different types of cement.

Four-H and FFA members will learn the answsers to these questions at the concrete school on April 6 at the Farm Bureau building from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

C. A. Kincaid, Portland Cement Association educational teacher, will instruct the boys at this school. He has many typical slides on the common faults in making concrete so anyone attending is certain to pick up information. Leaders are invited to attend if they wish.

The Implement Dealers Association for the nine counties in the 4-H White Eagle Camping area have given the green light on the soliciting of funds for obtaining a tractor at White Eagle Camp.

Getting cooperation from the different businesses on helping to set up a camp certainly makes it easier to give a boy or girl a wonderful camping experience. This tractor, with attachments, will be used for cutting grass, cleaning up the area, and maintaining the [illegible] acres of camp grounds. Ogle County had 50 campers last year and more are expected this year. Members in nine counties of Northwestern Illinois — Henry, Rock Island, Whiteside, Carroll, Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Winnebago, Boone and Ogle—attend a week of camp at White Eagle each summer. Ogle County youth will begin camping on July 18.

Broyles Bills Go to House

State Senate Passes Controversial Laws

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Broyles antisubversive bills, approved by the Senate with two and five votes to spare, moved today to the Illinois House.

After lengthy debate, the Senate cleared by a 31 to 16 margin the bill that would prohibit payment of tax funds to public employes who refused to execute oaths of non membership in a subversive organization.

By a narrower 28 to 17 vote, approval was given a measure which would outlaw the Communist party as a conspiracy and fix maximum penalties for membership at 20 years in prison and a $20 000 fine.

"Joiners" Guilty

Under the second bill, anyone knowingly joining any of about 260 organizations enumerated as subversive by the U. S. attorney general would be subject on conviction to five years imprisonment and a $5 000 fine.

Twenty six votes were required for passage. Somewhat similar legislation approved by the General Assembly in 1951 and 1953 was struck down by the gubernatorial veto.

Sen. Paul Broyles (R-Mt. Vernon), author of the controversial measures, said the oath bill provided a method for "screening out" disloyal public employes.

Besides, he said, "anyone who can't say he is not a traitor" shouldn't be on the public payroll.

Sens. James W. Gray (D-East St. Louis), and Elbert S. Smith (R-Decatur) and other opponents questioned the need for either proposal, and said they ran contrary to the spirit and letter of the Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence.

Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill (R-Downers Grove), saying the bills didn't go far enough declared in voting for the second of the two that "the enemies of the United States emanate from the United Nations whose agents are engaged in spending this country into ruin."

Generally, Republicans supported the measures and Democrats opposed them, although there was some crossing of party lines.

Former Soviet Prisoner Found Guilty as AWOL

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— A seven-man military court today found Pvt. William Verdine, a Soviet prisoner for six years, guilty of being absent without leave.

The court, made up of three officers and four enlisted men, deliberated only 10 minutes. The defense offered no testimony. Verdine had pleaded innocent.

After returning its verdict the court prepared to hear testimony in mitigation before considering the penalty for the 29-year-old Starks, La., soldier.

The maximum sentence is six months imprisonment, a dishonorable discharge and loss of pay and allowances, which in Verdine's case would amount to between $10 000 and $12 000.

Seize Boats

NEMURO, Japan (AP)—The Japan coast guard today said Russian patrol boats seized five Japanese crab boats in international waters Monday off Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island. The boats were manned by crews of from 4 to 11 men. The exact total was not known.

VIENNA (AP)— The Austrian government today accepted Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's invitation to Chancellor Julius Raab to go to Moscow for talks on the deadlocked Austrian independence treaty.

THE WORRY WART

Swedes Claim All's Normal With Malenkov

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — All appeared open and above board concerning Georgi Malenkov when a Swedish power delegation took a plane home from Moscow at the weekend, Bo Rathsman said today.

The chief of the Swedish group which made a 17-day visit to the Soviet Union, Rathsman took a swipe at Western rumors that the pudgy ex-premier who became Soviet minister of power stations Feb. 9 may have been purged.

The Swedes never saw Malenkov, who was technically their host. But they were told by Deputy Minister Alexi Pavlenko, who saw them off, that Malenkov regretted an inspection trip out of town prevented him from being on hand.

"Pavlenko shook hands with all of us at the airport then stepped back and pulled out four handwritten pages of notes and proceeded to bid us goodby," Rathsman said.

"He conveyed Malenkov's regards and regrets that Malenkov was unable to see us as he was away inspecting a power station.

"It was all very natural. He did not reel it off. He did it exactly as it would have been done here. There was nothing that could support any rumors and we got no impression that Pavlenko was covering up anything."

The fact Malenkov did not meet the Sewedes personaly had contributed to Western speculation that he was in trouble.

UNCOATED CANDY — With warm weather on its way, it's time for pictures of pretty girls in bathing suits. This one's called Candy Cole, and she's playing beach ball at sunny Miami Beach, Fla.

Children of Hiroshima Survivors Are Normal

LOES ANGELES (AP) — Japanese who lived through the hottest part of the atom bombing of Hiroshima have produced children who show no significant signs of hereditary ill effects after 10 years, say medical investigators.

Among offspring of 185 women who were pregnant and were in the area closest to ground zero only eight have shown signs of radiation injury, said Dr. Robert H. Holmes, director of the U. S. Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission.

The affected youngsters have heads slightly smaller than average and are somewhat mentally retarded. But thus far there is no significant evidence that they or any of the youngsters have been damaged genetically, Dr. Holmes reported.

Adult survivors in the hot zone, an area of 2,000 meters radius directly beneath the bomb target center, developed 16 times as much leukemia, a cancerlike condition of the blood, as did unradiated Japanese, but even these added up to only 44 cases.

Some of the more heavily radiated adults became temporarily infertile but regained their ability to produce children

Not enough time has passed to tell definitely what the long-range effects of the bomb will be, Dr. Holmes said

The report was made Tuesday night to a nationwide television audience in a film recording made by a drug firm with the cooperation of the bomb commission and the Atomic Energy Commission

$50,000 Bag of Pearls Stolen

NEW YORK (AP)—A bag of cultured pearls worth $50,000 was stolen from a jewelry importing firm Tuesday night by three bandits who forced their way into the company's Rockefeller Center office.

The trio, one of whom was armed, tied and gagged the firm's two partners, Boris Goodrich, 58, and his brother Leon, 45, and a clerk, Solomon Rudoff, 62. The pearls and a bag of industrial diamonds worth $500 were taken from an open safe.

The bandits also took $35 and escaped from the 21st floor office in the regular passenger elevator.

Mob Hangs Two For Witchcraft

QUERETARO, Mexico (AP) — Two men accused of witchcraft were hanged by a mob, authorities in the town of Juarez reported Tuesday. Authorities identified the victims of the latest violence as two brothers, Alfredo and Martiano Sanchez. Federal troops arrested 20 persons accused of participating in the lynching.

The United States government once owned nearly two-thirds of the land now in the United States

WORLD BRIEFS

MOSCOW (AP) —The Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union announced today it has decided to return Rafael's Sistine Madonna and 749 other art masterpieces to the Dresden, Germany, museum. The paints were brought to Moscow by Russian troops at the end of the war and have been here ever since.

PARIS (AP)— Officials of the state-owned French railways said today that not one but two electric locomotives had attained a world record speed of slightly over 330 kilometers 205 miles per hour. The record was set during tests this week or a 12-kilometer (7.46 mile) straight stretch between Bordeaux and Dax.

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Anti-Communists held a majority of the shop steward posts at the big Fiat automobile works today for the first time since World War II

Anti-Red union nominees won 62 per cent of the vote in company-wide balloting Tuesday electing 113 of the 172 stewards The result was considered an indirect endorsement of the new U. S. policy of denying foreign defense contracts to plants where a majority of the workers support communism.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey anounced today she is closing her customs border with Syria, thus banning transit of good between the two countries.

Turkey's move heightened the dispute with Syria over Middle East defense Syria has aligned herself with Egypt and Saudi Arabia in opposition to the Western backed Turkish-Iraqi alliance.

Skipper of Nautilus Lauds Sub

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The skipper of the Nautilus said today the atomic submarine now has logged more than 3 000 miles, hundreds of them while submerged and called his ship "revolutionary and amazing" in performance.

Comdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson discussed the Nautilus' record in a statement issued in connection with a news conference

In the statement he disclosed that some minor "bugs" had developed during trials including two small electrical fires during the first dive and a loose screw on a gear casing

Wilkinson said that the "builders' trials" of the Nautilus have now been completed and the next procedure is to run a demonstration for the Navy's Board of Inspection and Survey to show that the Nautilus is ready for acceptance by the Navy as a unit of the operating Atlantic fleet.

The skipper said he wanted to emphasize that "all new ships have problems which show up during initial trials."

More Cash Missing From U. S. Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director Henry J. Holtzclaw disclosed today another $[illegible] is missing at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Holtzclaw said the money involved is in the form of [illegible] sheets of 18 unfinished $1 bills each.

He said the bills disappeared at the bureau about two weeks ago, but that no announcement had been made. He disclosed the disappearance today in answer to a query.

A few weeks earlier, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston discovered $1,000 in $10 bills missing in a shipment from the bureau, which makes all the nation's folding money. A complete recheck of all the bureau ships, failed to disclose this missing money. The FBI has taken over the case.

Holtzclaw said the bills lacked serials, seals and signatures, and would be difficult to pass, if they had been stolen.

Boyle Analyzes a Woman's Silence—Her Best Weapon

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Silence is a wife's best weapon. It upsets a husband.

A smart wife (is there really any other kind?) learns to use silence as a club to knock that man in her life off balance.

Every husband leans heavily for guidance on the messages that bubble so dependably from his wife's vocal chords. They tell him whether he's doing all right, or making a mess of things.

Naturally all this tremendous word fall doesn't register in his feeble brain. He doesn't hear half of it. He doesn't need to. He learns to tell by the tone when he should tune in and really start listening.

But when his wife falls silent, his ears immediately snap to attention. He feels something unnatural has happened — as if he were watching Niagara Falls and it suddenly ran dry. He is totally lost. What has he done wrong? He must have done something wrong. Why won't she tell him?

Resent Silence

Husbands don't mind being bawled out when they deserve it half so much as they resent being clubbed by a wife's silence.

"My wife never shuts up except when she's mad at me," explained a husband. "But we've been married 20 years, and she has accumulated 836 different grudges against me. When she quits talking to me, how can I tell which one of the 836 reasons has made her mad at that particular moment? If I try to find out and guess the wrong reason, that only gives her another thing to be mad about. It isn't fair."

There are thousands of reasons why wives fall silent, and the only two pleasant ones are — sleep and laryngitis.

What are the worst? A poll of husbands, who insist on remaining anonymous purely in the interest of self - defense, gave these as some:

1. The why-can't-you-read-my-mind-like-it-was-a crystal-ball silence — in the midst of a pleasant dinner your wife suddenly ceases speaking. The next words you hear from her, just after she switches off the bedroom light, are, "Why didn't you pass the butter to me? You know I like lots of butter on a baked potato. It ruined my whole meal. Why didn't I ask you? Do I have to ask you for everything?"

Fence-Straddler

2. The fence - straddling silence — you are driving to visit friends and come to an intersection. "We turn right or left?" you ask. Silence. You turn right. More silence for 10 miles. Then your wife gives you five reasons why you should have known all along you took the wrong road.

3. The day-the-ghost-walks silence — you bring your paycheck home. Your wife looks at it, shakes her head, and puts it in the pocket of her housecoat without a word. You feel like a pauper. After all, small as it is, a paycheck is a kind of victory for a man. It shows he's been out fighting for his family. He expects a kiss for it — or at least a hug.

4. The yes-I-really-mean-no silence — you ask if it's all right to play some Saturday golf. Your wife shrugs noncommittally and turns away. All afternoon you wonder what's wrong. It ruins your game. When you return you find out there were 43 things about the house your wife wanted you to help her with on this one day of the year. No later day can ever make up for it.

Stratton's Budget Gets Approval of Majority

Sales Tax Hike Viewed As Solution to Problem

By LARRY KRAMP

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Money-raising features of Gov. Stratton's budget yesterday attracted the most legislative attention and approval.

Stratton proposed a one-cent increase in the two cent sales tax Monday and suggested that the Constitution's revenue article be offered to the public for amendment next year.

Rep. John W. Lewis of Marshall, Republican majority leader, appraised Stratton's two-year budget as "realistic and sound."

"Only Way"

Lewis said the avenue of a sales tax hike was the only way to meet demands for more money for schools and mental hospitals.

At the same time, he questioned whether circumstances would break the one-year limit Stratton placed on the sales tax increase. "My prediction is that the 1957 Legislature will continue the tax," Lewis commented.

Legislators generally foresaw Assembly approval of the tax increase. On the Senate side, the lawmakers quickly took up with Stratton's view that the amendment of the revenue article was the only real solution to the fund-raising problem.

Sen. Arthur Bidwill of River Forest, Republican Senate leader, commented that "It's the most important item we have—it should have been done a long while ago."

The revenue article would permit classification of property for taxation, a procedure now forbidden. It would open the way for broader application of personal property taxes. Besides it would permit tightening of the present sales tax, embracing within it services and occupations now exempt.

There was some Democratic criticism of the governor's sales tax proposal.

Rep. Paul Powell (D - Vienna) said he believed it would have rough sledding in the House unless the extra 100 million dollars it is intended to produce is earmarked specifically for schools and welfare.

"The governor said he would never be for a tax increase during his administration and yet he is coming out for two taxes." Powell declared. He referred to Stratton's additional proposal for a "use" tax, aimed at purchases made outside the state and heretofore free of an Illinois tax burden.

Sen. William J. Lynch of Chicago Democratic minority leader, accused Stratton of being "political."

"I seriously question the advisability of permitting the sales tax to fall after being in force one year," Lynch said. "I charge that it is political, that the problem of schools and welfare will continue, plus the problem of the cities."

Sen. Everett M. Peters (R-St. Joseph), Budgetary Commission chairman, said the University of Illinois fell short of its goal but got money "adequate to continue to run a high grade university."

He said the 5½ million dollars allotted for salary boosts was "disappointing" to university employes but it still would permit a 10 per cent boost. The university had asked $10,800,000 for pay raises.

House Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) said popular demand made the budget what it was.

"If the people were as effective in voicing demands for economy as they are for increasing services, the continuing increases in the budget would not be necessary," he asserted.

The population of the United States was 163,930,000 at the end of 1954.

Missouri Town Feels Tremor

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP) — An earth tremor, described by some residents as severe, was felt in the Caruthersville area early Tuesday but police said they had no reports of damage.

The shock woke residents here about 3 a.m.

A similar tremor was felt in this area a month ago.

Caruthersville is on the Mississippi River in extreme southeast Missouri.

Officials at St. Louis University said a seismograph reading showed the tremor struck at 3:03 a.m. (CST) at a point 176 miles south of St. Louis in the central part of the New Madrid fault.

The fault extends from near Cairo, Ill., to Memphis, Tenn.

Crowded Outdoors

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The great outdoors will be under tremendous pressure from expanding population expected during the next 25 years, says Dr. Charles B. Loomis, a sociologist at Michigan State College. The same drive that causes people to want to move to the edge of cities also makes people want to go hunting and fishing, he suggests.

"The urge to get outdoors is one of the most democratic urges known," he says. "Tell me what magazine you read, and I'll tell you what social class you're in. But tell me that you like to hunt or fish and I can't tell you a thing.

"The poorest man is just as good as the millionaire when they both get outdoors."

Traffic Controlled

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Nearly 1,000 motorists trooped into police magistrate's offices here in the first week after it was announced warrants would be issued for all persons who failed to pay up fines for accumulated traffic violations. One man paid fines of $286.50, for 44 violations after a warrant brought him to court.

Merchants Hoping for Best Easter

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— With a week and a half to go merchants are starting their final drive to make this their best Easter.

The weatherman is about the only one they fear. Storms through much of the nation has cut badly into trade recently. If spring makes a quick visit now the lost ground can still be regained.

Fear of war in the Far East and of labor strife here at home in the auto and other industries clouds much of industry's long-term planning today.

No Shadows

But the short-term outlook for trade is almost without shadow.

People with money to spend are spending more of it this spring and putting less away in savings. People without cash to spend are taking on more instalment payments than a year ago. The trend then was to pay off the instalments already contracted for, and to go slow on taking on new commitments.

But now merchants report there is an upturn in on-the-cuff buying of appliances. Auto dealers are moving flocks of new model cars into the highways with the aid of the finance companies.

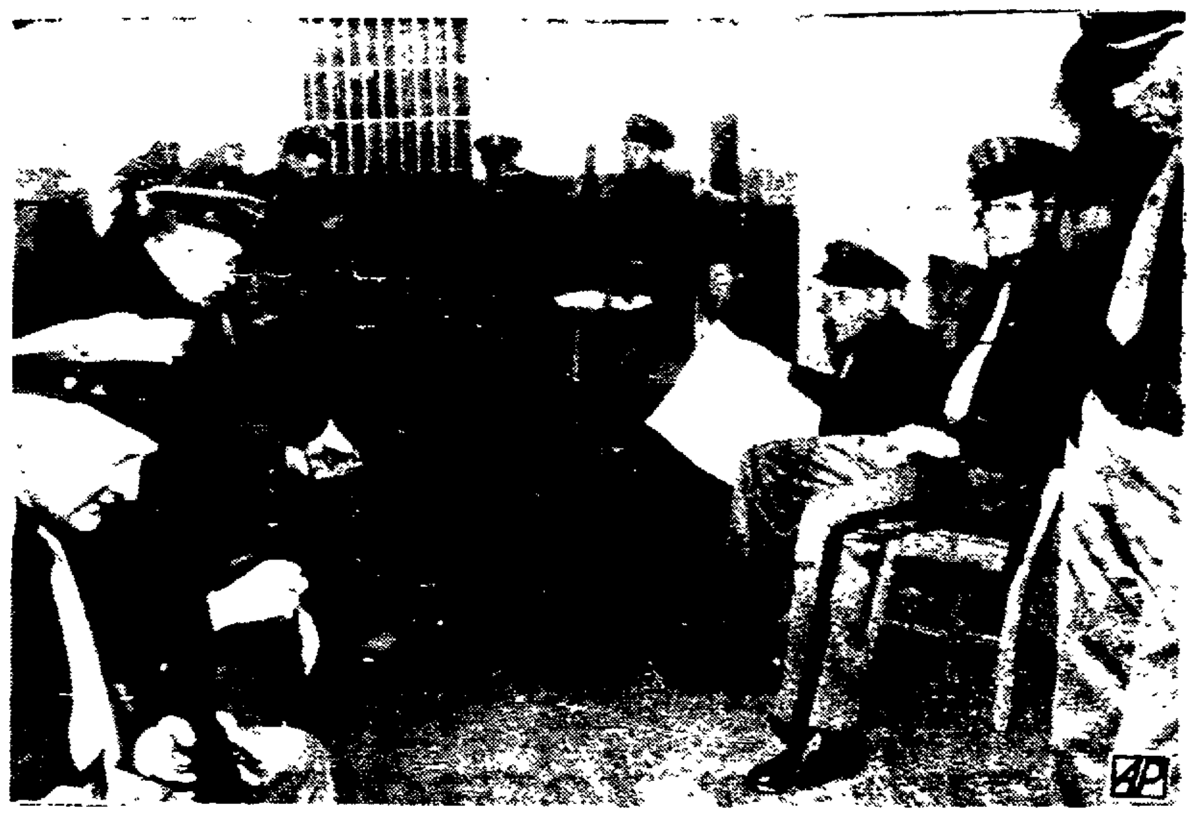
Furniture and other home furnishing items are enjoying booming sales this spring, stores report. The still blooming home building boom is giving the furniture industry one of its best years.

Reflects Confidence

All of this probably indicates a surge of confidence in general—as evident today in the nation's stores as it was for months in the stock market. With more confidence in keeping their jobs and maintaining their incomes, people are loosening their purse strings, drawing some on past savings or taking on more instalment debt to be paid in the future.

Sharp Police Call

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The burglar alarm brought three police cruisers to the Police Academy. Major J. Spencer Howerton, head of the academy, discovered that a workman, hanging sheets to catch dripping paint, had driven a tack into a wire, setting off the alarm.



PATROLMEN WAIT OUT PRISON INSURGENTS—Nebraska safety patrolmen, armed with rifles and machine guns, line the corridors of the Nebraska penitentiary administration building (March 27) at Lincoln, Neb., awaiting a possible summons to action in the revolt of 12 prison convicts. The convicts captured two guards and holed up inside the prison "jail" building. Three of the convicts left the building March 28. (AP wirephoto)

Building Atomic Bomb Was Easy!

Peaceful Conversion To Power Is Hardest

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Building the atomic bomb was a ferociously complicated process.

But it is beginning to seem like child's play compared with bringing atomic energy to ordinary peaceful uses. Take electric power, for instance.

This may be the first great field where the atom goes to work. American power consumption tends to double every 10 years. The economy demands more and ever more electricity.

Technically, you could have atom-generated electricity in your home today. Engineers know how to hook a nuclear reactor to a generator and take off electric power. But it is too expensive to be competitive with ordinary power.

Suppose you are the president of a big electric power company. The board of directors is in session. One of them asks:

"How big is the difference in cost?"

Costly Process

"Pretty big," you answer. "Power rates vary all over the United States. On the average, however, I'd say that with present techniques, atom-electricity would be at least twice as costly. That's only an estimate."

Q. Will new techniques cut costs sharply in the future? A. Let's take just one big phase of the problem. Nobody yet knows how to transmute atomic energy directly into electricity. You still need turbines, generators and all the conventional equipment. The nuclear reactor merely takes the place of one part of the machine. Now suppose a method is found to convert atomic energy into electric power without those intermediate steps? Then, no doubt, atomic electricity would be more than competitive with the processes we are using now."

Q. Safety? What's the problem there? A. Well, fortunately, there hasn't been a serious reactor explosion in America. But suppose one did explode near a city. The blast itself could be serious. Now picture, in addition, a radioactive cloud bearing down on a crowded community, poisoning the air, the food, even the water.

Private Industry

Q. As a broad, general question—would you say the government really wants private industry in the atomic energy business? A. Everything seems to indicate it does. For instance, if we come forward with a workable proposition, the AEC will give us certain advantages—the loan of fissionable fuel without charge, and making available their lab facilities for specific research studies, and so on.

Q. Well, do you think we should come in? A. I don't see how we can stay out. Here's a big, new field with tremendous potentialities. Sure, the costs and the problems are staggering. But this isn't the first time American industry has taken on a big tough job—and it won't be the last."

Next: Foreign implications.

Life of Hiccups

Ambridge—..uL5tv ETA ETA F

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP)—Victor Dionise, 47, has learned to live with his hiccups. He has been hiccuping for 24 years. At first the hiccups lasted only 15 minutes at a time but now he's hiccuping almost with every breath.

He managed to work steadily as a crane operator, but recently he opened a car repair shop near his home.

Dionise says he's tried hundreds of remedies, has been examined at two famed medical clinics but has yet to find relief. He's gone as far as to drink a jug of whiskey spiked with garlic and he's trying every new remedy.

He Keeps Time for President

BERNARD M. SHANLEY: He clears his throat on schedule.

WASHINGTON — (Special) — There's a new keeper of the town's most precious commodity.

That commodity is President Eisenhower's time and it's new guardian is Bernard M. Shanley.

Shanley is now breaking in on the job of Presidential Appointment Secretary, recently vacated by Thomas E. Stephens who has returned to a New York City law practice. He's best known as campaign manager for Harold Stassen's try for the presidential nomination in 1952.

There are a lot of facets to Shanley's job which don't meet the eye. One of the most unusual is saving Ike from his own time.

That need results when Ike gets wrapped up in a conversation with some visitor and forgets that each person permitted to enter his office, regardless of the importance of the man, has to be rationed on time.

What Shanley has to do in this case is open the door to the President's private office, gently clear his throat and give a meaningful glance at his watch. If this subtle signal doesn't warn the visitor that his time is up, then Ike takes the cue by rising and thrusting out his hand in a gesture of friendly good-by.

The only time this arrangement doesn't work is when a bunch of kids happen to have an appointment with Ike in connection with the Boy Scouts or some youth group. Ike loves kids and never fails to get them involved in some line of chatter which he insists on pursuing beyond the allotted time for the visit—to the utter frustration of Shanley's carefully-worked-out visitor schedule.

But that's all in a day's work for the White House appointment chief and Shanley is well up to handling all kinds of emergencies.

Shanley joined the White House staff when Ike took office in 1953 as counsel to the President. He is 51, an attorney from New Jersey and a prominent Catholic layman.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)— Western Michigan College has revived instruction in scientific temperance—a course once required of all Michigan schools under state laws but since dropped for a lack of qualified instructors.

The course, to be given as a part of the college's extension work, will not support either drys or wets. It will give factual information on the effects of alcohol on the human mind and body.

Oscar Voting Is a Tossup

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Hollywood's smart money talked long shot today as even the experts differed violently on who would win tonight's Academy Awards.

Crosby or Brando? Garland or Kelly? "The Country Girl" or "On the Waterfront"? With those favorites, it was even money and take your choice.

The choices are determined by secret vote of the 1,600 members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Results will be announced at the annual Oscar ceremonies tonight.

Only Edmond O'Brien, up for a supporting role in "The Barefoot Contessa," could make the experts agree.

The closest finish in years raised the perennial possibility that the Oscar favorites might knock each other off.

Humphrey Bogart, Dorothy Dandridge and the musical "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" thus rated better than an outside chance.

So closely contested was this year's race that even such famous stay-at-homes Marlon Brando and Bing Crosby did everything but ring doorbells for votes.

Among the girls it's Judy Garland, born in a vaudeville trunk, versus Grace Kelly, born in a Philadelphia mansion. Miss Garland, a great child star, is Hollywood's heartbreak kid. An Oscar would climax an amazing Hollywood story, the kind of story sentimental Hollywood likes.

If she wins, Judy will become the first Oscar winner to hear the news in a maternity ward. She gave birth to a son Tuesday.

Of the supporting actresses, the race is between Eva Marie Saint of "On the Waterfront" and Katy Jurado, the brilliant Mexican actress, who played Spencer Tracy's Indian wife in "Broken Lance."

The whole show will be telecast over NBC-TV from 9:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. (CST).

A Movie Man's Philosophy: 'Failure Is Just Fleeting'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Fortunately," said Stanley Kramer, "failure is just as fleeting as success."

Kramer, who once worked for $18 a week as a studio laborer, has produced 18 pictures in eight years. Now only 41 years old, he is one of Hollywood's favorite success stories.

But Stan himself, one of the film figures whose passion for perfection often conflicts with their desire for the dollar, is fascinated by failure. He is perfectly aware of the price you often pay if you aim high—which is, you land a lot harder on your face if you miss and fall.

Learn To Bounce

"That's part of the business," he said. "You have to learn to bounce. But once you have felt the deliciousness of failure—taken the sting, tasted the blood — you know it isn't really as bad as you feared.

"Failure gives you a feeling of solidity. When you climb back on your feet, you have a confidence that comes from surviving failure. It's a confidence you can't get in any other way."

Kramer, a stocky man who seems driven by a brooding restlessness, is in a comfortable position at the moment to discuss failure. His "The Caine Mutiny" has been nominated for an Academy award, promises to become one of the top 10 box office draws in cinema history. He expects his latest film (still to be released) "Not as a Stranger," based on the best-selling novel, to be even more profitable.

Other Hits

Behind him also lie such smash hits as "Champion," "Home of the Brave," and "High Noon."

"But at least half of my pictures only barely broke even or failed to do that," he said.

Stan doesn't feel a film necessarily is a failure because it fails to bring in a golden flood at the box office. Timing, he feels, has a lot to do with that. And proper promotion.

His own favorite, "The Men," dealing with paraplegic war veterans (it gave Marlon Brando his first starring role) came out during the Korean police action, an unfortunate accident in timing.

"But I think that 10 years from now it will still stand up as an honest picture," said Kramer.

Solid Citizens

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— Taxicab drivers, says Cabbie Earl E. Hall, are pretty solid citizens.

Hall denied that cab drivers are a hero type, and he added that neither do they deserve the abuse heaped on them by some citizen-motorists. He was interviewed after Fire Chief John F. Finnegan credited Hall and a passenger, Roosevelt Johnson, with pulling eight persons from a flaming building. Two died, but the fire chief said they saved the lives of the others.

U. S. taxpayers contribute more than a billion dollars a year for the care of mentally ill people.

Rockford Man May Be Spared Deportation

WASHINGTON (P)— The immigration service said today it has suspended deportation proceedings against Swedish-born Per August Elis Karlsson, 57, of Rockford, Ill., who was accused of holding membership in the Communist party more than 20 years ago.

The suspension was based on findings that Karlsson had in recent years demonstrated his loyalty to the United States and that deportation would involve a hardship on his American-born wife and child

Must Be Approved

Such suspension, to remain in effect, must be approved by Congress either at its current session or the session immediately following. Otherwise, the deportation order becomes reinstated.

The Justice Department said Congress will be given notice of the action taken in the Karlsson case on April 1.

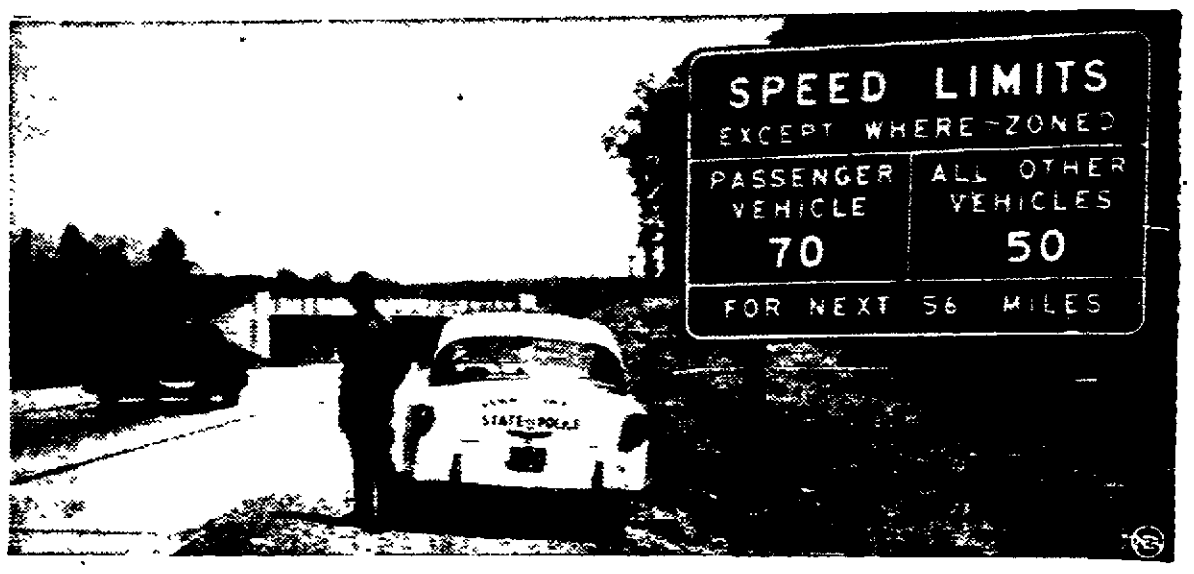
According to immigration service records, Karlsson came to this country from Sweden for permanent residence in 1923 and affiliated with the Communist party between 1930 and 1935.

Two-Year-Old Case

Deportation proceedings were brought against him two years ago. In January of this year an immigration inquiry officer, after a hearing, found him deportable under existing statutes and entered the order. The officer, however, at the same time recommended suspension of the proceeding on the basis of Karlsson's clean record in recent years and the matter of hardship to his citizen-family.

This action was approved on review by the immigration regional office at St. Paul, Minn., and by headquarters here.

Survey Shows Why You Crash on the Turnpike



GUARDIANS OF THE TUNRPIKE: Trooper and sign do their best, but drivers are the weak link.

PITTSBURGH —(Special)— Friday, not Saturday, is the unlucky day for drinking drivers.

Wednesday is the day for your car to break down with mechanical failure.

For trucks, Friday again is the unlucky day in this respect.

Those are some of the things which showed up in a unique survey of accidents on the Pennsylvania Turnpike—a survey with a message for the millions who drive on the nation's superhighways every day.

Nine thousand accident reports were studied, including fender-wrinklers The report covered 13 years of turnpike traffic. In that time 57 million cars had traveled five and a half billion miles on the road.

Also discovered:

Women fall asleep at the wheel less often than men.

Passenger car accidents are most frequent on weekends.

Drivers in the 16 to-25 years age group caused 38.5 per cent of the auto accidents.

The same group caused 58 per cent of the falling asleep accidents.

Drivers 46 and older have few sleep accidents.

Drivers 56 and older have more accidents due to deficiencies in driving skill.

The Turnpike Joint Safety Research Group which made the study discovered one clearly illuminated fact.

"Accidents don't just happen. They are caused Usually it is a result of the failure of the driver to modify his behavior to cope with the driving environment."

Almost half the crashes had one of two causes. There was either a failure to cope with road conditions or unsafe actions.

People got into trouble when they tried illegal maneuvers such as U-turns which are forbidden As to speed the researchers found there was a greater "chance for error" at high speeds.

Other main causes of accidents were:

Inattention, such as the geologist who was studying rock formations instead of his driving.

Vehicle failure.

Deficiencies in routine driving ability.

Misperception—misjudgment of rates of speed or a failure to understand what was seen.

Failure to avoid objects in the road.

Intoxicants.

What can be done to reduce this high rate of man made accidents?

"Driver education and training" the report says "appears to be the most promising key to accident reduction."

The dark-haired blue-eyed woman, now past 40, has brought five of her children into the world unattended Her oldest child is 17 Her youngest is two

Mrs Carter read many books on natural childbirth before attempting to deliver her own babies and she "blesses" their doctor authors.

Has "Better Chance"

"One of my children born in a hospital the orthodox way, suffered a [illegible] at birth and was slightly lame for several years Another child was taken by mistake to the wrong mother for two days "So I began reading extensively on the subject of childbirth as nature intended it

"I came to the conclusion that a baby has a better chance of escaping birth injuries through a natural birth providing the mother is ready. And I know now that those doctors were telling the truth when they wrote that natural childbirth is relatively painless."

St. Charles: Where a Boy Might Hit a Homer

It's Last Time at Bat for Many Problem Youths

By JAN HARTNETT

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP)— A clean-cut, pleasant looking boy about 16, carrying a cardboard suitcase, waited one day last week for a bus that would take him home from the Illinois State Training School for Boys.

Just then, entering the grounds in his automobile with a reporter, the superintendent of the school, Amos E. Reed, stopped his car and waved to the lad.

"So long and good luck, Johnny." Reed shouted. "You're not coming back are you?"

"I hope not," Johnny answered, with a grin.

"Yet he might be back," Reed told the reporter. "We have many repeaters. There's an awful lot of pressure on a 16-year-old kid, whose parents, teachers, religious instructors, friends, probation officers and perhaps many others may have had a chance at home before we get him in school here. We try to succeed where others apparently have failed."

Thin, Worried

The 39-year-old Reed is tall and thin and worried. And, his worries are about his boys -- close to 600 of them in an institution built to accommodate about 500. He took charge two years ago of a physical plant consisting of 1,200 acres of land and 86 buildings, including 19 cottages, 13 on the grounds in the rich Fox River Valley and six outside the school in a farm area. He also supervises about 320 employes.

The school is under supervision of the Illinois Youth Commission's Division of Directional Services.

"The Illinois State Training School is known as an open-type, minimum security institution," Reed said. "We have no uniformed or armed guards. We have one discipline cottage where boys are sent to cool off and we average only three boys a year who need to be sent there for an average stay of only three days.

"Our boys are supervised by cottage parents. They cannot be substitute parents. But, in the absence of real parents, cottage parents often establish wonderful relationships with the boys.

Sleep In Barracks

"Our boys sleep in barracks. At Sheridan, where generally the youths have had a long or serious history of misbehavior, the boys sleep in cells. We now have about 600 boys here at St. Charles. In May and June of 1954, we had 738 sleeping here."

When a boy is adjudged delinquent by the court he is remanded to the Illinois Youth Commission. He then is sent to the reception center at St. Charles where he undergoes a series of examinations.

After the tests the commissioners may decide:

1 To assign him to St. Charles; (2) to assign him to Sheridan; (3) to assign him to a mental institution for psychiatric treatment; (4) to transfer him to a foster home or a private facility; (5) to send him home on parole, or (6) to assign him to a forestry camp.

Reed commented:

"When we hire a staff worker we tell them 'Your first job here is to help the boys; your second job is whatever your occupation may be.'"

List Facilities

The facilities include:

Greenhouse, library, poultry farm, garden, dairy farm with more than 200 registered Holstein cows, print shop, pig farm, butcher shop, cleaning and dyeing plant, cottages, academic buildings, chapel and cannery, machine shop, auditorium, shoe repair shop, medical and dental clinics, barber shop and gymnasium.

The superintendent said about 83 per cent of all the boys committed in Illinois are sent to the training school at St. Charles and about 14 per cent to Sheridan.

A Youth Commission Survey for a seven month period showed that a total of 1 947 youths under parole supervision for the period, 247 were returned to the training schools as parole violators.

"Fifty per cent of our boys are 16 years old," Reed said. "Twenty-five per cent are 15. They range in age from 8 to 18 and eight out of ten come from Chicago. Last year we had one boy only eight years old and once or twice a year we get one nine."

He's Proud

Reed is tremendously proud of the school's athletic and recreation program and of the physical fitness of the boys. Rarely, he says, does the school have a bedfast patient.

We followed a group of eight boys toward a swimming pool that would have been a credit to any athletic club.

"Our baseball diamond was laid out by the Chicago Cubs' ground crew," Reed continued, "and in recent years the Georgia Crackers and the St. Louis Browns have used our diamond to conduct tryout schools.

"We have a six-acre lake stocked with bass, blue gills and bullheads. It's used by the boys and the employes. I believe that fishing provides a most positive experience for boys and is of definite assistance in a rehabilitation program and, I'm proud of our boys' attendance at religious services.

"I have never known a boy at St Charles who raised any objections about attending such services. Our chaplains—Jewish, Protestant and Catholic—conduct services in our chapel which seats 475."

Spic and Span

The school auditorium, with a capacity of 500, had a spic-and-span appearance, as did each one of the cottages. All were equipped with television sets and there were plenty of books in each one.

"We show movies for the boys every Friday and the fellows themselves frequently put on their own dramatic shows, not only here but in nearby communities," Reed said. "We have a drum and bugle corps of 80 to 85 boys who make from 20 to 30 outside appearances a year. At Christmas time the St. Charles Optimist Club sponsors a dinner and bowling tournament for the boys. The Rotary Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars in nearby communities also are quite active in treating the boys to dinners and entertainment.

"These kids aren't treated as jailbirds. We have some 40 boys, 16 and over, who set pins in bowling alleys in Geneva, St. Charles, Wheaton, Elgin, Batavia and Aurora. We have had activities at the school promoted by the Elgin Exchange Club and the Bloomington American Legion. We have special entertainment at Christmas and Easter and a giant Fall Festival."

Home For Christmas

Reed explained that the school sent 180 to 190 boys home for two weeks last Christmas and 140 boys home for a two-week vacation last summer, entirely on their own honor, and they all returned. He said that in the past 2½ months there had not been a single escape from the school and that in the great percentage of previous escapes most of the boys had returned of their own accord.

"Some boys do exceptionally well in this institution," Reed said, "but many of them can't seem to make an adjustment on the outside. Who, if anyone, is to blame? Is it us or the boy's community?"

He added:

"It has been said before, but let me repeat: 'A boy may have two strikes against him when he arrives at St. Charles, but the training school tries to help him swing clean and straight.

" 'For, on the next pitch, he may hit a home run.' "

Next: Dwight, the woman's prison that looks more like a college.

State Highway Needs for Next 10 Years Told

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Bureau of Public Roads has estimated that Illinois needs nearly 4½ billion dollars in highway improvements during the next 10 years.

Of $4,477 000 000 in highway improvements advocated by the bureau for Illinois, $2 074,000,000 was fixed as the 10-year cost for needed rural roads, and $2,403,000,000 for urban pavements.

The estimate was broken down to include three classes of U S. fund allocations for federal aid roads and the total funds required from state and local sources.

To meet estimated improvement needs for the decade, the bureau said $2,291 000 000 would be required from agencies in Illinois. The estimate of funds for interstate highways in Illinois was $1 ,65 000 000.

The estimate also included indicated federal aid money needs of 542 millions for primary roads and 109 millions for secondary roads

Churchill Notes Turn For Peace

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said Tuesday prospects of a four power parley seem to have brightened lately. He added he still favors a conference at the summit "but so far heads of government have not agreed to this method."

The 80-year-old Prime Minister made the statement in the House of Commons.

Amid laughter, he dodged the question of a Laborite who wanted to know if top level talks can be arranged soon enough to enable him to participate in them personally as Britain's leader. There are reports Churchill plans to retire soon.

"The future," Churchill said, "is veiled in obscurity, and I should not like to plunge too deeply into it this afternoon."

Churchill told the House of Commons the international situation certainly "seems to have taken a friendly turn lately." He added:

"I have never departed in any way from my view that a top-level meeting, without an agenda, might be a helpful manner of approaching the solution of these world problems. There might be a better chance of success if the initiative (for such a conference) came from the summit but so far the heads of governments have not agreed to this method."

Jelke Case Will Go to Jury Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—The cafe society vice trial of Minot F. Mickey Jelke reaches its final stages today with the jury hearing closing arguments from defense and prosecution attorneys.

Jelke's lawyer, George Washington Herz, finished presenting evidence for the defense Tuesday.

The case goes to the jury Thursday.

The trial is Jelke's second fight against charges that he induced Pat Ward, 21, into the high-priced call girl business and tried to do the same with hatcheck girl Marguerite Cordova, 26. If convicted on both counts, the 25-year-old heir to oleomargarine millions could be given up to 40 years in prison.

Jelke's first trial in 1953 ended in conviction and he was sentenced to three to six years in prison. This trial was upset on appeal, however, because the press and public had been barred from the courtroom during the state's case.

The judge said he closed the doors in the interest of public decency.

In general terms, the second Jelke trial failed to produce any new sensations. However, it gave the public its first eyewitness picture of chic, high-priced call girls revealing inner secrets of their trade.

Bob Merriam: Chicago GOP's White Hope

CHICAGO—(Special)—No Republican has swiveled in the mayor's chair here since Big Bill Thompson overflowed it in 1931. But a young fellow named Robert Merriam, who only last year was a Democrat, gives the GOP its best chance in 24 years to enjoy that experience again.

ROBERT MERRIAM: The first GOP chance in 24 years

On April 5 Merriam bucks up against County Clerk Richard Daley, candidate of the powerful Chicago Democratic machine. The machine dumped Mayor Martin Kennelly, who nevertheless ran in the February primary on his own and helped keep Daley from winning more than 27 of the city's 50 wards.

As the campaign draws to a close, the experts and the local polls show Merriam and Daley neck and neck. But caution, rooted in remembrance of Democratic power in this city, would limit Merriam to a fighting chance.

His prospects hang on: (1) whether he can stir Chicago voters out of their seeming lethargy in the closing days; (2) whether many Republicans who see him as an outsider will follow GOP Gov. William Stratton in extending warm support; and (3) whether he can grab off a fair share of the voters who backed Kennelly and a third Democrat, Benjamin Adamowski, in the primary.

* * *

The 36-year-old Merriam, now finishing his second term as alderman of Chicago's Fifth Ward (Political birthplace of Sen. Paul Douglas), came to the GOP mayoralty nomination by a stormy route.

In his wake were strewn a broken party affiliation, numerous disgruntled, shouting Democrats, some tape-recordings dealing with crime and politics, some stabs at waste in City Hall, and a lot of slightly used labels pinned on him by his enemies.

He's been called a fool, a naive idealist, an ambition-ridden self-seeker, an opportunist, a political turncoat, and a reformer.

Above all he hates the tag "reformer," and has even written an item titled, "Why Reformers Fail." But he looks like the walking image of good government.

* * *

He has a high forehead, a squarish face set off by dark brows and dark hair that stays flat, and a steady smile that makes crinkles around his eyes. Button-down shirts, conservative suits and a pipe complete the picture of the young scholar in politics.

That's what he is. He was born to politics. He's the son of the late Charles Merriam, long a distinguished University of Chicago political scientist, himself an alderman and twice unsuccessful candidate for mayor.

At the age of eight, Robert used to sneak down after bedtime and camp beneath the staircase to hear his father talk politics with many men. The professor urged his son to train for politics and he did. Young Merriam studied government, and years later with his dad wrote a fat textbook on it.

His real field course" started in 1947 when the Democrats, looking for some new faces attached to clean records, backed Merriam for alderman. He won, and from the outset the Democrats seemed sorry.

His first tack was economy. Leading the "Economy Bloc," a group of earnest aldermen he pressed for major budget savings. The hard-shells either angrily denounced or laughed out his proposals, but time saw the quiet passage of many.

* * *

What really sparked him into public attention was the crime-politics alliance. The 1952 murder of a small-time Republican ward politician touched off an explosion. Merriam proposed a Council crime committee. Called the "Big Nine," it was set up, but he was nudged out of the chairmanship (later he got it).

The committee never got far. All sorts of roadblocks were thrown up. But Merriam fought the good fight in many and ingenious ways.

In 1954, on a regular TV show of his, he turned up a tape-recorded interview with an ex-policeman who blasted the lid off police department corruption. On another he produced a landlady who exposed a bribe attempt by a building inspector. Then he exhibited a tavern owner who admitted paying off two health inspectors.

* * *

None of this endeared Merriam to his fellow Democrats. He decided that his political fortunes must lie elsewhere. Never a shrinking violet about his future ("I trained for this life"), he tossed out feelers about his chances for mayor.

He was told the Republicans wouldn't have him and that his sole hope lay in an independent course on the pattern of the late Fiorello LaGuardia's "fusion ticket" of the 1930's in New York City.

But then Governor Stratton showed an interest. He faces the voters again in 1956, as does Senator Dirksen. The value of Chicago in GOP hands is clear. And Stratton wants new blood in the Chicago Republican setup.

Still, Merriam was a renegade Democrat. He needed an organization Republican to speak out. Soon one did—Herbert Johnson, 19th ward committeeman. Others followed, and in December the hard-bitten city GOP group astonished many by swallowing the New Dealish professor's son whole. He won February nomination easily.

* * *

But these are probably Merriam's toughest days since he was with the 7th Armored Division as combat historian in the Battle of the Bulge. The Nazis were on three sides before relief came.

Merriam, who rose to the rank of major and won a Bronze Star and four battle stars, later helped write the official Bulge history and then a popular version called "Dark December." When General Eisenhower wrote him to describe it as a remarkably accurate document, he inadvertenly addressed Merriam as "colonel."

Merriam laughingly calls that his "battlefield promotion." And he's hoping for another, from the voters of Chicago, on April 5.

BIG BILL THOMPSON: The last GOP overflowed the chair.

Here's the Man Who Puts A Bang Into Met's Opera

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (AP)— Right in the middle of our interview, he suddenly reached behind me, grabbed a gun leaning in the corner, hurried out the door and went bang!

I waited: Another bang! And a third! There was a to-do, and an uproar, and thunderous noises all around. It was back stage in the heart of the Metropolitan Opera House.

My man came back, thumped the gun down in its corner and explained:

"'La Gioconda,' Act II."

It was rehearsal time, and my gunman was Ralph Edson, master of properties at the Met—he even packs three revolvers, in a drawer, which New York City police inspect and license every year.

"Does the gun ever go off when it shouldn't, or not go off when it should?" I asked.

No Shot

He remembered a rehearsal when he was showing director Tyrone Guthrie how to do a bang: the shot itself was defective, and the only dead thing was dead silence.

"Anything can happen," he said. "Anything! The things that go wrong! It isn't only guns. I remember Chaliapin about to climb up a balcony, only there was no balcony on the set at all. I remember a "Carmen' set that was supposed to have a window and didn't."

"Does anyone ever forget the handkerchief in 'Otello' "?

"Somebody can always forget something—a knife, a gun, a flower, a piece of paper which the audience is supposed to see. If they forget it, we give it to someone else going on stage and he slips it to the other character the best he can."

For 35 Years

Edson has been with the Met 35 years and he has in that time mounted 150 operas, he estimates. The singers come down to the stage as curtain time nears, and Edson or one of his men stands where he can pass out the needed small items. Before that, there were chairs, tables, dishes, benches, rocks, what-not to put around. For each act there's a floor plan and a photo, and a typed list of props. Sometimes they're "practical," like grapes that have to be eaten in "Carmen," or the cake in "Arabella." Someone goes out and buys them fresh for every performance.

"Who tells you when to fire that gun?"

"An assistant stage manager. He has a score filled with the necessary back-stage cues. When it's time to throw open a window in 'Faust,' he gives the signal. He tells when snow should fall, and stop falling."

"But who has charge of the sets in which your properties are placed?"

"My son, Louis."

All Edsons

Everything you see on stage at the Met, or while the company is on tour, was put there by an Edson.

The son is master mechanic. Graduate in psychology of the University of California, he came back to work at the Met, which he's been visiting ever since he was knee-high to his father. He has three crews, or 60 men in all, and like the master of properties, he says:

"We couldn't do it alone. It's the work of the experienced crews all together that keeps things going."

In the fall when the season is starting, young Edson sometimes has to put up and take down the sets for nine or 10 operas every week. Like his father, he works from drawings, photos, charts, diagrams, and various lists.

The Met has so little storage space that sets are packed off to two warehouses, one nearby in midtown Manhattan, the other five miles uptown. There are bins for every set of small properties. "Hangers," or flat drops, are numbered way up into the hundreds.

Separated Twins Rest Comfortably

CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty-month-old Siamese twin girls, who survived separation surgery Tuesday, were reported resting comfortably today.

The girls, Prissana and Napit Polpinyo, were flown to the University of Chicago 10 days ago from Bangkok. After the 3½-hour operation, they were reported in "excellent" condition. Unless unexpected complications set in, doctors believe they have good prospects of achieving a complete recovery.

The Polpinyo girls were joined from the lower chest to the abdomen. The connecting tissue, some six inches in diameter, contained bone, muscle and a fused single liver, twice ordinary size. Because both girls had ducts leading to the liver the surgeons were able to divide it, giving half to each.

The surgery was performed at the university's Billings Hospital by Dr. Lester R. Dragstedt chairman of the university's surgery department. Assisting were three resident physicians, including his son, Dr. Lester Jr., an interne, and three anesthetists.

The twins are daughters of two Thailand school teachers, Nuk and Chuan Polpinyo, of Chumpair, a village near Bangkok. They are under the care of the Thai government which had stipulated that no operation should be attempted unless both girls were given a good chance for survival.

Democratic Women Will Map Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic women from Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin will meet in Milwaukee April 27-28 to make early plans for participation in the 1956 elections.

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities for the Democrats, announced the meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Louchheim said this will be the first of 9 to 10 regional conferences planned to pool campaign techniques. She said the conferences will be self - financed through a nominal fee. For the Milwaukee event the charge will be $10, including tickets for a luncheon and dinner but not for hotel rooms.

Mrs. Eugenie Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., former ambassador to Denmark, will discuss U.S. foreign policy at the dinner April 27. Also on the program will be the national committeewomen of the four participating states—Mrs. Edna Bowen, Wisconsin; Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey Illinois; Mrs. Ione Hunt, Minnesota, and Mrs. Margaret Price, Michigan

During the conference there will be panels moderated by Mrs. Paul Douglas, wife of the Illinois senator; Mrs. Orville Freeman wife of the governor of Minnesota; Mrs. Henry Reuss, wife of the representative from Wisconsin, and Mrs G. Mennen Williams, wife of the governor of Michigan.

Ring Comes Back

KANNAPOLIS, N. C. (AP)— Mrs Banks Auten lost her wedding ring 27 years ago. She thought it slipped off while she was washing dishes at her home in nearby Harrisburg. Later she and her husband moved here, but she never forgot about the ring. Recently the people who now live in the house at Harrisburg found it good as new near a well in the yard and returned it to her.

In many areas of Southeast Asia there is half an acre of land per person compared to four acres per person in the United States.

UAW Backs Drive for Members

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO Auto Workers Union today offered to put up a dollar for each of its 1½ million members to finance with other unions a drive to organize millions of nonunion workers

The proposal was in a resolution the 3,000 UAW delegates are expected to adopt at their annual convention. It said that when the proposed AFL-CIO merger is accomplished every union should put up a dollar for every present member into a pooled fund to organize new members.

Applaud Meany

AFL President George Meany, warmly received here Tuesday in his first address to a CIO union convention, said a revived organizing drive was definitely planned when the AFL-CIO merger is completed later this year. Meany has been designated to head the combined AFL-CIO organization.

Meany had nothing to say about how the new organizing drive is to be financed but he was receptive to another idea advanced by Walter Reuther president of the CIO and the UAW, for a common strike fund subscribed to by all unions.

The AFL chief said he was "rooting" for Reuther to win his guaranteed annual wage plan in the auto industry this year and was confident that AFL unions would respond if Reuther asked for money aid. However Reuther has said he will depend on a 25 million dollar strike fund voted by the UAW.

"The job of building up the standards of life of the workers of America has by no means been accomplished," Meany said.

May Not Work

He commented there are some industries where a guaranteed year around pay plan may not be practical. He said while he knew nothing about the auto industry, "I'll take Walter Reuther's judgment on it—that's good enough for me."

Meany said fears have been expressed that labor will have too much power under the AFL-CIO merger and it will be exercised politically. He said there certainly will be an increased exercise of union political power "not with the idea of running the country but of continuing the forward march of labor."

As Meany saw it employers are concentrating their efforts against unions in federal and state legislation. He mentioned the Taft-Hartley Law and various state right-to-work laws banning compulsory union membership.

"We didn't choose the battleground — this is a political battleground," he said. "If they can pass laws that can hamstring, weaken and destroy the trade union movement, then our place to defend ourselves is in the same halls where they passed those laws."

Reuther and other UAW officers were due to be re-elected today at the convention.

Uprising in South Viet Nam Put Down by Army

16 Reported Killed in Violent Pitched Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—National troops were concentrated at vital points throughout Saigon today after beating back an attempt by a private army to oust American-supported Premier Ngo Dinh Diem by force.

At least 16 persons were reported killed in the fighting which raged more than four hours early today. None of the nearly 1,000 members of U. S. diplomatic, military and economic missions here were injured.

Except for large troop concentrations and a few roadblocks, there was little evidence of the battle which broke out shortly after midnight between the private army of the Binh Xuyen society of former river pirates and national units.

Traffic Normal

Traffic moved normally over the Boulevard Gallieni, main artery between Saigon and its Chinese section of Cholon. The hottest fighting occurred around this thoroughfare. All major public utilities were functioning as usual—under French and Vietnamese military guard.

President Eisenhower's special ambassador, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, conferred with Gen. Paul Ely, French commissioner general to South Viet Nam, on emergency measures to protect the foreign residents of Saigon in case of further trouble.

Heavily reinforced army units stood guard around the palace, a massive three-story building.

The government said the green-bereted Binh Xuyen troops began their attack by shelling the palace compound and the botanical gardens, where two battalions of paratroopers were bivouacked. Five mortar shells fell in the palace garden but the building was not hit. Diem, who was inside, was unhurt.

Other Battles

Two other actions were reported: A battle at the prefectural police headquarters and a diversionary Binh Xuyen attack on the national army headquarters. In both, the private soldiers were beaten off and driven back to an area their forces hold between Saigon and Cholon.

Government troops made no attempt to dislodge the Binh Xuyen from the headquarters of the Surete Nationale, the national police which it controls.

The society, which has grown rich from its monopoly of local gambling and vice, also had controlled the 4,000-man police force in the Saigon and Cholon prefecture but Diem ordered it taken over by the national army Monday. This stemmed from the Binh Xuyen's recent alliance with the Hoa Hao and Cao Dai religious sects—which also have their own private armies—in a "united front" to overthrow the Premier.

The national army took over part of the prefectural police headquarters without opposition but Binh Xuyen troops remained in some of the buildings. These soldiers were driven out in the fighting before dawn.

Blockade Saigon

The united front announced today its private armies were starting a blockade of Saigon, whose two million people depend on rice imports from the rich Mekong River delta surrounding it. Should the capital's supplies begin to dry up, new fighting is sure to break out.

In a communique this morning, the Binh Xuyen accused Diem's forces of having started the post-midnight battle. The society said it had suffered 10 dead and 30 wounded.

Although government sources said at least six nationalist soldiers were killed and an uncounted number wounded, the Binh Xuyen statement claimed the society's forces did not fire a shot during the action. This was in pursuance of their policy of nonviolence, the statement added.

Brother, Sister Robbed of $5,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Three men robbed a middle-aged brother and sister of more than $5,000 Tuesday, bound and gagged their victims and turned on the gas jets of the kitchen stove as they left the apartment.

Miss Mary Evancie managed to free herself and turned off the gas, then released her brother, Joseph C., 53.

Evancie told police the men pretended to be interested in buying the building, which is owned by the sister. In their search of the apartment, he said, they found $5,000 Miss Evancie had concealed in her clothing. He said it was the proceeds of the sale of other property a year ago.

Radar Light Fails

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— Police radar, which has been tossing some costly winks at speeders, briefly became a suspect itself.

A high school student reported a batch of flash bulbs mysteriously went off all at once when a radar-equipped patrol car passed by just as he prepared to take photographs of some classmates. Was radar to blame?

It was the first complaint about the new police radar from anyone but a speeder. So Traffic Maj. John G. Hanna ordered an immediate trial. His men tempted the radar beam with flash bulbs from a distance and then in close. Finally the machine was festooned with flashbulbs. Nothing happened.

Still no solution, though, to the mystery of the students' flash bulbs.

Two Men Killed

GREENVILLE, Miss (AP)— A C46 transport plane crashed into a jet trainer at Greenville Air Force Base today. Two men were killed, a base spokesman said. Several others were injured.

Other details were not available immediately.

UN Seeking Peace on Gaza Strip

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Having condemned Israel for the Gaza attack last month, the U.N. Security Council turned today to discussion of ways to pacify the explosive Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Up for debate in today's meeting of the 11-nation council was a Western-sponsored resolution, asking both countries to cooperate with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, U.N. truce chief in Palestine, on steps to stop border-crossing.

By unanimous vote, the council adopted another Western-backed resolution Tuesday night holding Israel guilty of a prearranged army attack Feb. 28 on Egyptian forces in the Gaza strip Egypt occupies. Thirty-eight Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed in the battle.

The resolution condemned the attack as a violation of the U.N. Charter, the council's 1948 Palestine cease-fire order and the 1949 Egypt-Israeli armistice agreement. It also called on Israel for "all necessary measures to prevent such actions" and said both sides should observe the armistice pact.

The Western proposal was sponsored by United States, Britain and France. Russia voted in favor of it.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Although she was born without arms, Mary Carolyn Simon, now 21 still learned to cook and sew and play the marimba. And she had a high school romance too—with Jack Brown, of Taft, who is now in the Army.

Tuesday she and Brown, 19, obtained a license to get married. Miss Simon slipped out of her shoes and signed the marriage license—with her toes.

She has appeared with Horace Heidt's orchestra and plays the marimba for the Santa Monica water ballet team. Brown, a private first class, heads for the Far East soon, and Miss Simon hopes to join him, as an Army wife.

Pendergast Slate Loses In Kansas

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Citizens Assn. retained political control of city affairs for another four years by sweeping into all offices except one in Tuesday municipal election.

H. Roe Bartle, businessman and Boy Scout area executive, was elected mayor by a 2-to-1 majority over Berl Berry, wealthy automobile dealer. Bartle pulled 56,966 votes to 28,474 for his opponent.

Of eight council posts only one went to a candidate running without Citizens Assn. support. Thomas J. Gavin, backed by the Pendergast Democratic organization retained his seat.

It was 15 years ago the Citizens' Assn. ousted the Democratic machine headed by boss Tom Pendergast from the city hall. The association has maintained control since that time.

After Tom Pendergast died remnants of his organization were inherited by a nephew, James Pendergast. The present Pendergast organization, much weaker than boss Tom's organization, is one of several Democratic factions.

The Citizens Assn. is made up of Republicans, independents and some Democrats.

James Pendergast crossed lines to endorse Bartle in the mayoralty race. Bartle said he had not asked Pendergast support.

Teeth in the Law

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A suspected narcotic addict found out that even a man's teeth can testify against him. When Detective Ralph Curiale examined the teeth, he found them to be not only false but also to have bits of marijuana imbedded in them. Curiale grabbed the suspect and the teeth, and later used the false choppers as evidence against the suspect.

CANCER IS CURABLE

About 5 per cent of lung cancer cases are cured today. More than 50 per cent could be cured if they were diagnosed early enough.

Gun Safety Schools

BOSTON (AP) — State-sponsored schools to teach youngsters safe handling of firearms are popular. The state has established seven more schools, running the total to 13. Some 200 have graduated and received certificates of competency.

The object is to eliminate accidental shootings and familiarize youngsters 15 to 18 years old with the danger of mishandling weapons.

In London, mail-carrying driverless trains are run through a six-mile tunnel every five minutes controlled entirely by pushbuttons.

It seems that our ballroom has the distinction of playing all the top name artists in the country in all fields of music. Now for the first time in our dancing history we bring to you America's No. 1 Latin American band Perez Prado.

In a recent poll he took top honors from Xavier Cugat. The "King and Originator of the Mambo" has the most exciting Latin American band ever to hit the country. Featuring 4 saxs 4 trumpets one trombone and bass three percussionists (including kettle section) maracas a conga and bongo drummer that adds that Latin sound without which Prado would not be Prado. Prado performs on the piano and drums, plus singing and dancing.

Man Wanted for Assault, Flees From Police Trap

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said a man sought in connection with a vicious assault on an Indianapolis housewife March 21 has been in Chicago for several days and visited a woman friend here Monday.

Efforts to trap the man went awry Tuesday when he failed to keep a date with the same woman, police said

Investigators identified the man as Robert L Dennison 29 a former employe of a Chicago finance firm He is sought on a warrant from Indianapolis charging commission of a physical injury in the course of a robbery

Dennison is accused of beating Mrs E[illegible] Kroetz in her Indianapolis home with a rolling pin, screw driver and a skillet during an attempted robbery

Police said Dennison was fired from his Chicago job March 12 after $200 of the firm's money was taken from a cash box They said a firm which bonded Dennison reported he telephoned the firm March 25 admitted taking the $200 and promised to make restitution.
